Fire Finally Extinguished At Gigantic Russian Hotel

By THOMAS KENT
Associated Press Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — An army of firefighters early today brought under control a fire that ravaged a wing of the Rossiya, the world's largest hotel. Soviet authorities said there were injuries and witnesses said some guests may have perished.

Ambulances continued to leave the hotel after the three-hour blaze was extinguished. There were unconfirmed reports that bodies were seen being carried from the burning building. Soviet officials confirmed there were injuries but gave no figures.

A British diplomat said three Britons were unaccounted for. Checks with other embassies, which sheltered displaced guests, turned up no reports of casualties.

The hotel, just a block from Red Square in the heart of Moscow, was packed with foreign tourists and businessmen as well as Russians.

U.S. officials said about 170 Americans were at the Rossiya, a seven-year-old, 3,200-room hotel that can accommodate more than 5,000 guests. A spokesman said 160 tourists from Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio, were safe.

The French, West German and Italian embassies said all their nationals known to be at the hotel were accounted for and uninjured. The Japanese Embassy said one of 58 Japanese known to be staying at the hotel was slightly injured when he punched out a window to escape.

The north wing of the Rossiya burned for more than three hours Friday night and early today, sending hundreds of guests fleeing into the winter night. Others, trapped by the flames, slid down knotted bedsheets or jumped from windows.

The fire-blackened wing stood empty this morning, its windows smashed, with ropes of knotted sheets and curtains swaying in the wind.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the fire broke out about 9

State Backs Down On Closing M-139

By NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

State highway and environmental officials last night said they will try to replace the Somerlayton bridge without closing M-139 to traffic.

Engineers promised to return to the drawing board and design a bridge that can be built in two sections, allowing traffic to use M-139 during the construction, they said.

A. Vankampen, chief bridge engineer for the state highway department, said he could finish drawing the new structure in time for construction to begin, as scheduled, in spring, 1978. But he estimated that condemnation procedures needed to acquire a right-of-way for the new location will delay construction until 1979.

At a brief, crowded meeting in the county courthouse, the officials acknowledged they'd heard the clamor raised in Berrien over their idea to close M-139 for as long as a year for the construction. The old bridge would have been torn down and the new, wider bridge built right along the centerline of the old.

Ronald Roberts, route location engineer for the highway department, said he was pleased that Berrien communities had "become involved" in the bridge-location decision. He expected such involvement when, on Feb. 1, he explained the plan to the Royalton Township Improvement association, he said.

After that meeting the association drummed up opposition to the closing of the highway. Association member Matt Borro, owner of Ace Hardware, Scottsdale, was one of many citizens last night to thank the officials for their cooperation. "We got results," he said.

Four highway department engineers were joined by Dale W. Granger, chief of the water management division for the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

Granger said he thought the plan to build the new bridge beside the Somerlayton bridge would have no problem getting a DNR permit.

He also said he was fairly sure it would receive the approval of the Army Corps of Engineers. The Corps was invited to the meeting, but did not attend.

Granger said a 1973 Corps of Engineers permit to build the bridge upstream from the old truss bridge was out-of-date. The Corps' responsibilities to protect the environment have broadened since the permit was issued, and a new one will be needed, he said.

A DNR permit for the project didn't apply once it was learned that because of unstable subsoil, tons of fill material would have to be laid beside the bridge to compensate for its weight. The fill material might have to be spread as far as 180 feet, according to Granger. Fill material would then cover the mouth of Yellow Creek, a problem that could be solved but which would require a new permit, he said.

The plan to build the new bridge over the old was drafted when it was discovered that soil 20 feet deep and beyond was "muck," Vankampen ex-

ON MURDER CHARGE

Figlus Is Waived Into Adult Court

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Sixteen-year-old David Figlus Friday was waived into adult court to face an open murder charge in the December stabbing death of Dona Jean Armstrong of St. Joseph.

Immediately after the juvenile court hearing ended he was arraigned in Berrien district court where he waived the right to a preliminary examination and was bound over to circuit court.

Berrien Prosecutor John Smietanka said Figlus would be arraigned in Berrien Circuit court early next week. In the meantime he is lodged in the county jail without bond.

Miss Armstrong, 20, was stabbed to death in her home Dec. 10. Police previously said Figlus, who was 15 at the time, spent the preceding night in the home as a guest of the girl's brother. She lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Armstrong, at 1208 Lane drive. They were away on vacation that night.

Figlus, of 912 Botham avenue, St. Joseph, was waived out of juvenile court jurisdiction by Probate-Juvenile court Judge Ronald H. Lange. Lange made the waiver during a 25-minute oral opinion from the bench in a courtroom closed to the public and press.

Figlus, wearing a blue and white tie-dyed jersey and blue jeans, sat quietly with head

Claim Carter Tried To Halt Report On CIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter personally tried to discourage the Washington Post from disclosing CIA payments to Jordan's King Hussein, congressional sources say.

Carter confirmed the CIA payments to Hussein, something he has declined to do publicly, in his account to congressional leaders Tuesday.

He described Hussein as "our most reliable source" of information in the Middle East, the sources said.

It remained unclear when Carter first learned of the payments, which he ordered canceled after the Post began its inquiry.

But a Senate source said that former CIA Director George Bush had told the Senate intelligence committee about the arrangement some time ago, and had encountered no opposition there.

At the meeting with congressional leaders of both parties, Carter was quoted as saying he had looked into the arrangement with Hussein and found "nothing whatever wrong with it."

A House member present at the leadership meeting said Carter had reported that money covertly channeled through Hussein had gone for effective intelligence gathering work and for efforts to reduce tensions in the Middle East, but that the payments obviously could not be disclosed.

Before they were disclosed, they were stopped.

The account of Carter's effort to at least postpone disclosure, and of his defense of the payments, came from a memorandum dictated by a congressional leader for his own files after the Tuesday meeting.

It quoted Carter as saying that he had asked Ben Bradlee, executive editor of the Post, and

Claim Americans Not Hostages

By BRIAN JEFFRIES
Associated Press Writer
NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — President Idi Amin has no intention of holding as hostages the 240 Americans being detained in neighboring Uganda for a meeting with Amin on Monday morning, Uganda Radio said today.

"This has never crossed his mind," the government-controlled radio quoted an Amin spokesman as saying. "He has never thought of making any of them hostages. It is the U.S. imperialists putting words into his mouth."

After Amin ordered his forces on Friday not to allow any Americans to leave Uganda, a spokesman for President Carter said the United States would do "whatever is necessary" to save American lives.

A four-ship U.S. Navy task force led by the nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise cruised off East Africa today, and military analysts in Washington said military staff officers doubtlessly were considering possible options in case of an emergency.

But U.S. officials played down the possibility of a military mission to rescue the Americans. And Carter told reporters he believes the Ugandan situation is "going to be all right."

Amin was quoted by Uganda Radio as saying he is ready to meet any "task forces." This may have been a reference to his earlier charge, denied by the White House, that 5,000 U.S. Marines were poised to invade Uganda.

The U.S. force in the Indian Ocean is several hundred miles from landlocked Uganda. It is composed of the Enterprise, the cruisers Truxtun and Long Beach, the submarine Tautog and 200 Marines.

Military officials said the Enterprise does not have enough helicopters to mount an airlift to rescue the U.S. nationals.

Gen. George S. Brown, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said Friday night he believes "reason will prevail." Asked whether the United States could protect its citizens in Uganda, Brown replied, "I think that the United States has adequate forces to respond to any likely

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter. — Thomas Jefferson.

What Youngsters Like Vs. School Lunches

Our only personal experience with the school lunch was brief and somewhat far back in time.

During the early 1920s the Benton Harbor school district, which then embraced only the public schools within the municipal boundaries, instituted a midmorning milk break in the kindergarten through sixth grade bracket.

It was voluntary, self supporting and optional in taste.

A youngster could take the nourishment or refuse it.

He had to pay a nickel for the half pint drink.

He had a choice of plain or chocolate.

The program's theory was to combat undernourishment.

The school board dropped this noble experiment before the term had concluded.

The fat kids who did not need the stimulus took it anyway because of the temptation placed before their eyes.

Most of the youngsters wanted chocolate which always seemed to be in short supply. This made the dairymen unhappy because of being stuck with an unwanted inventory of plain milk.

There were no government monies in those days to subsidize a dietary endeavor. This meant some youngsters actually in need of a supplement feeding and coming from households which did not have an extra nickel in the piggy bank went without. This created a haves vs. a have nots political ripple neither to the board's anticipation nor liking.

So the milk break was scratched.

This timid experiment of over 50 years ago was revived on a massive scale by the federal government following World War II for a variety of reasons.

The dietary deficiency recognized by the Benton Harbor board is an ongoing condition.

The shift from the little red schoolhouse to the consolidated unit virtually obliterated the lunch recess, thus posing a choice between brown bagging or creating a school cafeteria. Most administrators preferred the latter if only to minimize the clutter and arguments attendant to brown bagging.

Agricultural surpluses were more prevalent than today. Distributing their readily edible types through the hot lunch system helped the farmer.

From that mixture of altruism, commercialism and local bureaucratic desires has emerged more than a dozen federally funded programs for child nutrition.

Last year Jerry Ford failed to induce Congress to consolidate them into a single block grant plan which would eliminate 10 million youngsters from families above the poverty line. He estimated this could save $400 million dollars a year.

Prompted by an investigation of The Chicago Tribune, the Illinois state board of education is looking into the Windy City's experience.

The Tribune's reporter task force concluded some $600 million of edible foodstuffs goes into the garbage pail annually.

The Tribune's team attributes the waste to several factors.

Poor preparation and an unappetizing appearance of the food turns off many youngsters.

Dirt and noise in the lunchrooms adds to this rejection.

Most contributive to the waste is the food selection.

The diet is chosen on what the federal people administering the handouts feel should be eaten for health purposes, not so much for what the youngster likes.

Since so many of the Chicago kids come from homes which do not serve necessarily what is supposed to be good for their inhabitants, the Windy City handout is left on the table.

What The Tribune has dramatized for Chicago may not necessarily hold true in other localities.

Yet rumors and gossip filtering around from people in our area connected with the lunch dispensation support the wastage allegation.

The allegation about the youngster disdaining spinach which supposedly is good for him but which is not to his taste buds is well known.

Rather than waste taxpayer money on meals the youngsters won't eat, it would seem the bureaucrats running the program might seek out some customer ideas on what would be swallowed.

It might be junk food, but if nutrition of some sort is preferred to none at all, which is the better guide, the rule book or the consumer's thoughts?

Shape Of Future People

Biologists are becoming concerned, not about the fate of human evolution, but about the position man is going to take in future generations.

First, they had to contend with sit-downitis, which is an ailment affecting the ability of the legs and feet to function properly after several generations of disuse. Related to this ailment is an expanded posterior, caused by overuse of a part of the anatomy not really intended to support all the weight all the time.

Then with the introduction of various electronic marvels came new challenges to the traditional human form. The telephone loosened jawbones a bit, but the ability to hang up has prevented this physical threat from becoming a national calamity.

Next came television. At first, employers joined biologists in worrying publicly when they saw their production line and office workers straggling in bleary-eyed, disheveled and full of conversation about what they had seen the night before.

Soon the novelty wore off and concentration again settled more or less on the work at hand. A new threat made its appearance, however, with the discovery that resting one's arms on the sides of a chair for prolonged periods of time may lead to a form of paralysis of the hands.

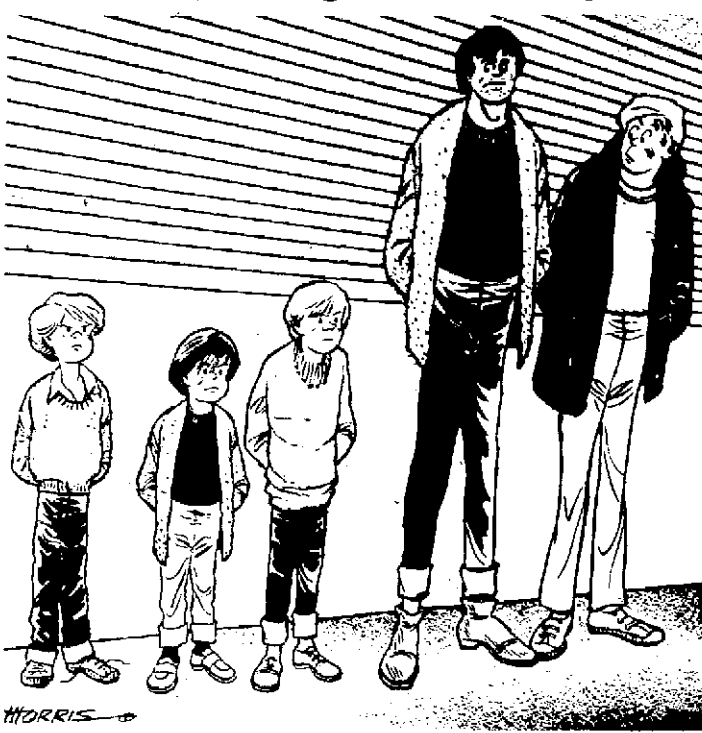

A neurologist warns that abnormal postures can cause pressure damage to the central nervous system. The elbows, he adds, are particularly susceptible since they have become the supporting brace for persons reclining in an easy chair, leaning over a desk or simply meditating in the boss' swivel chair.

The neurologist doesn't say what he would recommend a prolonged chair sitter to do about his ailments. Perhaps the time is ripe for someone to promote a trapeze in every living room. Even the sight of one could be traumatic to the jellyfish slumped in the corner.

Governor Explains His Stand In PBB Issue

Editor:

On February 17 you received an Associated Press dispatch on the question of PBB tolerance levels as a political issue.

In general, I found it to be a balanced piece and one which made some interesting editorial judgments.

It was, however, misleading in one respect. It referred to my "recent endorsement of legislation to reduce the amount of PBB allowed in food."

I have been urging a lowering of levels since April 23, 1976. It was in that month that my Scientific Advisory Panel advised lowering the tolerance from the 3 parts-per-million level set by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration to the lowest detectable, reproducible level.

I urged the Michigan Department of Agriculture to adopt this guideline, but after public hearings on the subject, the Agriculture Commission decided there was not sufficient evidence to take the level down any further.

I then asked the Michigan Legislature, in June, to reduce the tolerance level, but the Legislature declined to act during its 1976 session.

Early in 1977, legislation to lower the level to .02 was introduced. I let it be known that I continue to favor seeking the lowest detectable level — as

I received a response almost immediately from the chairman of the commission, David D. Diehl, who said a majority of the commission now favors a lowering of the level and supports legislation to do so.

I am pleased that for the first time since PBB was identified we seem to be nearing agreement on most levels on our approach to the problem.

Kind personal regards.
Sincerely,
William G. Milliken

FLAG PROJECTS ARE COMPARED

The Feb. 4, 1977 issue of the Regional bulletin published in Chicago and distributed to members of the U.S. Postal service in 13 of the north-central states, carried a news item along with a large news photo related to a subject which aroused quite a lot of reader comment in the Herald-Palladium only a short time ago.

The picture in this article shows a large bedspread made up of 20 different styles of the United States flags with the bicentennial flag holding position in the lower right hand corner.

The item explains that the Strawberry Point, Iowa, Women's Club made the bedspread as a bicentennial project. The postmaster and three postal employees display the large spread which is large enough to cover a queen-sized bed.

This project featuring the 20 flags compares quite significantly with the wall hanging made up of small flags which had outlived their usefulness on veterans graves which Cecilia Burke of Benton Harbor placed upon her piece of cloth.

Is Pentagon Breaking Law?

WASHINGTON — Air Force

Lt. Col. Fred M. Sims says it was just an educational lunch with some friends from Congress. But a fellow Pentagon lobbyist says it was "very indiscreet," and federal law suggests that the affair may have been quite improper.

The episode in question was explained by Sims in a July 11, 1975 memo in which he told his boss that he planned to host a luncheon at a Capitol Hill restaurant the following week.

"All invitees will be persons associated with the (1975-76 fiscal year) Military Construction Authorization Bill," Sims said in his memo. "With the House about to take floor action on the bill and the Senate already having passed its version, this is an appropriate time for such a luncheon meeting."

The memo sought authorization to use public funds to pay for the meals of three invited congressional staff members. The request was approved, on the condition that the Air Force personnel present pay for lunch out of their own pockets.

Notwithstanding that incident, the Defense Department and the various branches of the armed services insist that they never use taxpayer money to lobby members of Congress or their aides.

The Pentagon has, however, spent hundreds of thousands of dollars annually to "provide legislators and their staffs with virtually every imaginable amenity and luxury."

"We've always differentiated between lobbying and educating. We've never had to lobby congressmen. We simply respond to them," says Army Col. Stephen Hurrell, an aide to the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Legislative Affairs.

Perpetuating that hair-splitting distinction is very important to the Pentagon because the criminal section of the U.S. Code specifically forbids the use of public funds for lobbying Congress.

Yet the Defense Department has provided expensive jet aircraft and purchased breakfast, lunch and dinner for scores of members of Congress and their wives on junkets throughout the world.

Pentagon "escort officers" have paid for newspapers, magazines, cigarettes, medicine, liquor, snacks, rental cars, maps, guidebooks, rides in horse-drawn carts, nuts, candy, gum, strawberries, maid service, taxi fares, highway tolls and countless other items for traveling legislators.

All are bought with the taxpayers' money, but always the facade is maintained: None of those favors and services are in any way related to lobbying or influencing legislation.

That's why Sims' memo is important. In a four-inch-high stack of documents released by the Air Force, it is the only sheet of paper which clearly establishes the link between military money and congressional power. "Very indiscreet," says Hurrell.

Others believe that the answer lies not in improving discretion but in establishing greater adherence to the letter, spirit and intent of the law.

Kenneth Guido, general counsel of Common Cause, is preparing to seek either new legislation or a court ruling to achieve that goal.

"I don't think we should have an outright prohibition on the use of public funds for lobbying Congress by government departments and agencies. But it's time to halt the Pentagon's joint lobbying with its contractors and the entertaining of Congressmen," he says.

'Hot Air' As Foreign Policy

Now and then something comes along so absolutely gorgeous, so perfect a specimen of the type, that it must be held up to general admiration, passed from hand to hand, preserved in amber, donated, perhaps, to the Smithsonian.

It's happened again. Not long ago I wrote a column on "liberal imperialism," defined, roughly, as moral pretension combined with practical impotence. Now, in an absolutely superb example of the liberal imperialist mode, Tom Wicker, one of the resident muralists at the N.Y. Times, urges exactly that approach on President Jimmy Carter — who, however, appears to come by the approach quite naturally on his own.

In a column beneath the noble-sounding title "Holding Freedom's Standard," Wicker advocates A) aggressive rhetorical stands on human rights abroad, but B) the disavowal of actual measures designed to foster them in the USSR and other prime offenders, except that C) once in a while we should kick some Latin or other in order to endow with seeming substance position A. This constitutes, of course, the complete reduction of foreign policy to pure hot air.

Naturally, as a master of the genre, Wicker starts off in a very lofty vein, worthy, almost of Woodrow Wilson. "It is more important than ever for President Carter to continue to express his support for human rights... That he should not (fall silent) is particularly important, after the (insulting) Soviet response, in order to underline his and his country's commitment to human rights."

Reading those sentences, the wary are not distracted by such strong words as "support" or even "commitment." Little clues exist in those sentences, completely confirmed later, that what Wicker has in mind are words, mere words.

Thus Carter must "express" his support, he must not "fall silent." Indeed, he must "underline" his commitment. Clearly, we are in the presence of a mere verbalist. Like his Victorian Whig predecessor, the American liberal imperialist thinks the world is run by little pamphlets — or by White House "statements."

Not surprisingly, as we read on, we find that the bulk of Wicker's column is devoted to a catalogue of the concrete actions we should not take, repeat not take, as a result of our commitment to human rights.

Holding that standard high doesn't require the United States to invade nations, overthrow governments, assassinate leading adversaries, or police the world. Well, okay, but, apparently, we should not actually do much else either. "Mr. Carter must avoid at least three pitfalls. He must not let his stand (sic) for freedom be subject to what Henry Kissinger called 'linkage' — the resolution of another, Mr. Carter need not keep silence (sic) on human rights in order to get an arms limitation treaty... Nor should trade matters, a political solution in the Middle East or other important questions involving Moscow and Washington be linked to the human rights matter."

In that last sentence it is instructive to see the "commitment" to human rights shrink to "the human rights matter." Wicker would not even penalize the Soviets on trade, that is, deny them a computer or a case of Pepsi Cola.

Buchanan To Act Monday On Reappraisal Report

BUCHANAN — The Buchanan city commission is scheduled to act Monday, Feb. 28, on a reappraisal report that will drop the assessed value of industrial property here by $1,106,348.

The reappraisal pegs the assessed value of industrial real property (buildings and lands) at $3,833,722. The 1976 figure was $4,942,270.

Assessed value of both real and personal property is used in determining the property tax due in a year to the city and other taxing authorities. It is first multiplied by a factor and then the tax millage rate to produce the taxes due.

The industrial real property assessment is part of the city's overall assessed value which amounted to $17,488,060 last year. The assessed figure upon being multiplied by the factor was boosted to $25,652,912.

The report was done by the United Appraisal Co., Chagrin Falls, Ohio, and covered industrial real property only. It was ordered by the city commission on recommendation of the city tax review board and in the wake of a dispute over assessments against Clark Equipment Co. holdings.

The commission is to decide in the future whether a reappraisal of other classes of properties in the city is to be undertaken also.

Of the four leading industrial property owners in the city, as-essed value on two will drop substantially, one will increase and one will remain nearly the same if the Ohio firm's work is approved by the commission.

United set assessment of Clark property at $2,809,265, compared to the 1976 assessment of $3,249,820. Also decreasing was Indiana & Michigan Electric Co., which dropped from $853,040, to $290,638.

The assessment for Electro-Voice climbs from $396,605 to $448,058, according to United's recommendation. Buchanan Steel would change only from $285,774 in 1976 to $285,741.

If United's reappraisal is accepted, it would be the second time in as many years that Clark's assessed value of real property would decrease. In 1975, Clark was assessed $4,771,781, and in 1976 it dropped to $3,249,820.

Robert Faulhaber, city manager, said the drop in Clark's assessment could support the firm's contention in disputing its 1975 assessment that the assessments were too high. The firm's appeal of both real and personal property assessments for 1975 is still pending before the state tax commission.

Faulhaber said the drop in the I&M assessment stemmed from a reclassification of generators at the dam in Buchanan.

Faulhaber said the aim of the reappraisal was to reflect 50 per cent of the true market value of the property covered.

Traffic would then be diverted to those two lanes of new bridge, allowing workers to tear down Somerlayton bridge and build other two lanes of new bridge. Job could be done in eight months at cost of $1.4 million, said VanKampen. Story on Page 1. (Staff photo)

Gast Spells Out Benefits Of New Law

Real Estate Sale Price Disclosures Required

By MIKE WYNGARDEN
Staff Writer

A new Michigan law which will require public disclosure of the purchase price of all real estate sales will result in more realistic property tax assessments in the long run, State Rep. Harry Gast Jr. (R-St. Joseph) told the Women's Council of the Southwestern Michigan Board of Realtors yesterday.

Gast said the law, which will also require real estate brokers to file an affidavit breaking down personal property such as furniture and other costs from the actual real estate sale, will enable tax assessors to determine a "fairer" assessment of the value of the property.

The sale price of a piece of property is one of the tools tax assessors use to determine what the property is worth for tax purposes.

Realtors have voiced objections to the new law because they claim it eliminates the confidential relationship between Realtor and client. Currently, Realtors can file a confidential affidavit with the county register of deeds office which prevents the purchase price of the property from being disclosed.

"I know the Realtors believe this new law is an invasion of privacy," Gast said at Benton Harbor Holiday Inn. "But the state is asking the real estate profession to assist in making assessments fairer."

The new law, which goes into effect Dec. 31, 1977, was tacked on to a new bill currently in effect which allows residents to make improvements to their homes without raising the assessed valuation of their homes.

A section of the new law will require that real estate brokers file an affidavit disclosing personal property involved in the sale, the costs of surveying the property, and any costs paid to obtain a mortgage (points).

"The section of the bill that deals with making improvements is long overdue," Gast said. "But the section that was tacked on has some real good elbows for you people in the realty profession."

The commission real estate companies receive for selling property will not have to be disclosed under the present bill, Gast said. That cost will remain in the total purchase price, he said.

Accused Murderer Demands Hearing

SOUTH HAVEN — Lee Rogers Newman Jr., 26, South Haven, demanded a preliminary hearing in Seventh District court here yesterday when arraigned on an open murder charge in connection with a Thursday night shooting that left a South Haven teenage girl dead and three others wounded.

Newman, an ex-convict who lived at 457 LaGrange, is accused of shooting Jenise Lee Perry, 17, of 713 Maple street, a South Haven high school junior.

No charges have been filed in connection with the wounding of Obie Franklin, Ishanee Gill and Laveria (Bonnie) Franklin, all of South Haven.

The shooting occurred about 11 p.m. at the city's public housing project and apparently stemmed from a dispute between two men over a girlfriend.

According to South Haven police the shooting occurred outside the home of Bernice Franklin, 410 Cable street. Police said the shots are believed to have been fired from a car parked outside the Franklin home.

Miss Perry was visiting at the Bernice Franklin home and was apparently struck by a stray bullet that went through the a window. Police also believe the bullet that killed Miss Perry passed through her and struck Laveria Franklin. Police said Mrs. Gill was in the car and Obie Franklin was apparently opening the car door when the shots were fired.

Obie Franklin, 29, of 951 Kalamazoo street, remained in critical condition this morning at Bronson hospital, Kalamazoo. Mrs. Gill, 24, 361 Broadway, was in serious condition at Bronson and Laveria was reported in fairly good condition today at South Haven community hospital.

Newman was ordered held without bond after his arraignment before Seventh District Court Judge Donald Goodkallie, Jr., and a preliminary examination was set for 1 p.m., March 8. Newman asked for a court-appointed attorney.

According to the federal probation office in Kalamazoo, Newman is on parole after serving time on a federal charge of possession of an unregistered sawed-off shotgun. He was sentenced to five years in prison in 1974 and was released from federal prison in Terre Haute, Ind., in April, 1975.

According to Berrien circuit court records, Newman is awaiting trial in circuit court on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon, a .32 caliber pistol. He was released on $15,000 bond set at his arraignment on that charge earlier this month. He was arrested last month.

ARRAIGNED: Lee Rogers Newman Jr., 26, is led by police from Seventh District court in South Haven yesterday after being formally arraigned on open murder charge in connection with Thursday night shooting death of South Haven teenager, Jenise Lee Perry. Miss Perry, 17, was sitting in an apartment when stray bullet fired from outside building struck her, according to South Haven city police. Newman yesterday demanded preliminary hearing which was set for March 8. (Mike Whelan photo)

Bard Schoolgirl Is Struck By Bus

A six-year-old Bard school kindergarten student serious injury yesterday afternoon when struck by a Dial-A-Ride bus as she was going to school, according to Benton township police.

Emily Parker, daughter of Mrs. Shirley Parker, 1246 Blossom Lane, Benton township, was admitted to Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor, and was listed in fair condition this morning. The accident occurred around 12:15 p.m.

Patrolman Scott Long said child did not receive any broken bones from the accident, but had bruises and was expected to remain hospitalized for observation.

Long said witnesses at the scene said the girl darted into the path of the bus from between parked cars. He said the bus, driven by Mary Jane Norwood, 31, of Benton Harbor, was westbound on Highland avenue when it hit the girl near the corner of Highland and Edith drive.

No tickets have been issued. Patrolman Long said it appeared the bus driver did everything possible in an attempt to avoid the child.

Judge Seeks Speedup In BH Schools Desegregation Suit

KALAMAZOO — Federal District Court Judge Noel Fox yesterday requested all parties in the Benton Harbor schools desegregation suit to complete an exchange of trial information within the next 45 days in an effort to speed up a settlement in the decade-old suit. During the pre-trial conference in federal district court here yesterday, Judge Fox also denied a motion by the Concerned Parents of Hagar Township District No. 4 to be dismissed as defendants in the suit.

Fox requested that the defendants and plaintiffs in the suit complete "discoveries" — an exchange of information each party will use in arguing their case — within the next 45 days, but did not set a date for the trial. The NAACP, which pressed the suit in 1967 on behalf of Mrs. Ruth Berry and her six children and other black parents and children of the Benton Harbor school district, has requested that the trial be held as soon as possible.

The Concerned Parents of Hagar Township District No. 4, a group of residents in the Eaman school district which in 1971 was transferred from the Benton Harbor to the Coloma school district, became interveners in the suit in July, 1975, to block any move to transfer the Eaman district back to Benton Harbor. Atty. Andrew Burch, who represents the Eaman group, said the group had asked to be dismissed from the suit because the plaintiff is not seeking the transfer of the Eaman district back to Benton Harbor as the sole settlement in the suit.

Defendants present at yesterday's conference were Atty. Burch, Atty. F.A. (Mike) Jones, representing the Eau Claire school district; Atty. Rocco DeFrancesco, representing the Benton Harbor school district, and Atty. Lee Boothby, representing the Sodus school district.

Michigan Income Tax Cut May Trigger Major Fight

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Lawmakers are gearing up for a fullscale fight over the governor's plan to block a scheduled reduction in the state income tax.

The chairman of the Senate Finance Committee said Friday he opposes a bill which would keep the tax at its current 4.6 per cent. Under current law, it is slated to drop to 4.4 per cent July 1.

And Sen. Patrick McCollough, D-Deerborn, said his committee intends to block the bill unless Gov. William Milliken agrees to recoup revenue lost under the new state business tax.

"I believe we can afford to roll back the tax rate to 4.4 per cent on July 1 as current law requires," McCollough said. "The people of Michigan deserve a tax break and I'm going to fight to see that they get one."

McCollough and budget officials say the reduction would cost the state about $20 million in the current fiscal year, and $80-$85 million in the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1.

McCollough is running for governor in 1978, but he said his position on the income tax is not designed to gain political advantage. "As chairman of the Finance Committee, I have the responsibility to do what is right," he said. "I think this is justified."

The income tax was raised from 3.9 to 4.6 per cent in 1975 — with McCollough voting against the hike. Budget officials said the raise was needed to replace money lost through the elimination of the sales tax on food and drugs.

In an attempt to gain votes for the increase, backers included a rollback to 4.4 per cent this July. But McCollough said Friday that was "a promise made to the people of the State of Michigan...I intend to see that this promise is kept."

McCollough said the reduction is justified because:

—Milliken's 1977-78 budget includes $128 million for a "rainy day" budget stabilization fund, which could be used to absorb the lost revenue. "Why should the state bank money when individual taxpayers have to bear the burden of an extra .2 per cent on their income tax?" he demanded.

—The Senate Fiscal Agency estimates the state will have $40 million more on hand at the end of the fiscal year than Milliken projects.

—The income tax hike brought in $270 million during the 1976 fiscal year, while the sales tax on food and drugs would have produced only $238 million.

—Milliken does not intend to make up a $50 million shortfall in the Single Business Tax by adjusting the rate to bring in more money. And McCollough said unless business pays its fair share, he will block the income tax bill.

He said other Finance Committee members "share my point of view."

James Farnsworth, assistant to budget director Gerald Miller, said the state could absorb losses from an income tax drop by wiping out part of the budget stabilization fund. But if the Democratic legislature enacts a budget above Milliken's recommended $3.65 billion, he said, it will have to consider keeping the tax at its current level to fund the extra spending.

Lawmaker Sponsors Bills To Toughen Shoplifting Penalties

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Shoplifters would face stiffer penalties and merchants could detain suspected culprits without fear of lawsuits under legislation introduced Friday in the state House. Sponsored by Rep. Lucille McCollough, D-Deerborn, one bill would provide for fines as high as $300 or jail terms as long as 90 days or both for persons convicted of shoplifting. Adult shoplifters or parents of minor shoplifters would be liable for the retail value of the stolen merchandise, damages of $100-$250, court costs and attorneys fees. Persons who shoplift items worth less than $100 can be punished by fines of up to $100 or 90 days or both.

A second bill would make merchants who detain suspected shoplifters immune from certain civil suits as long as they post a sign warning that suspects will be detained. Now, merchants often are reluctant to hold a suspected shoplifter or report the matter to police because of the threat of suits for false arrest, false imprisonment or slander. Mrs. McCollough said. She said American businesses lose close to $1.5 billion annually from shoplifting, a loss that boosts prices of merchandise by an estimated 2 per cent a year.

Christianity Is 'Another Chance'

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A puzzled patient asked his psychiatrist, "If there is no such thing as guilt, then why do I feel so miserable?"

In the Judeo-Christian view, human beings chronically fall short of their best potentialities, and to honestly deal with the fact, should admit it, regret it, ask amends and seek to do better.

That's the keynote of Christianity — always another chance.

It's also what Lent is about, a 40-day season of penitence, meditation and sensitizing of conscience which began Wednesday — called "Ash Wednesday."

"Remember man, that thou art dust, and to dust thou shalt return," the minister says as he imposes ashes in the sign of a cross on the foreheads of worshippers in Roman Catholic, Episcopal and some Lutheran churches.

It symbolizes that human beings are sinners, that they do foul up to varying degrees, that they are guilty, that they need to acknowledge it and be sorry for it to accept a loving God's forgiveness for it.

This is a continually restorative process of Christianity, but it gets extra emphasis during Lent, the period leading to Easter, and it calls for special disciplines for reconditioning the psyche.

"We all need times of quiet, penitence and reflection as a restorative from the distractions of the world," says the Rev. Frederick Rapp of St. Stephen's church, Port Washington, N.Y. "It answers deep needs of the human spirit."

But he emphasizes that the traditional practices of Lent, such as the imposition of ashes, meditation and fasting, are not the objective themselves, but only the means to it.

"People often confuse the means with the ends," he says. "Discipline is never an end in itself." Noting, for example, that an athlete trains for a race or game, not for the training itself, the Rev. Rapp adds:

"So it is with spiritual discipline — to bring our lives closer to God and make us more aware of his care and influence in human life."

It's a habit Jesus followed. From the New Testament accounts, he wasn't an ascetic and He enjoyed celebrations and feasts, but He often quit the crowds and went off alone to meditate and keep himself tuned to God.

Lent itself commemorates the 40 days He spent in the wilderness in self-searching and decision before He began his ministry.

Although various types of meditation have become a vogue in this country, often of the lately imported Eastern varieties, such as yoga or Transcendental Meditation, the practice always has been a standard feature of Christianity.

Jesus offered considerable guidance about it, such as warning against making a big display of it to court attention, or being disheartened and mope about it.

"And in praying do not heap up empty phrases as the Gentiles do; for they think that they will be heard for their many words." Vocabulary and syntax don't matter, He made clear in Matthew 6.

"When you pray," He said, "go into your room and shut the door and pray to your Father who is in secret; and your Father who sees in secret will reward you."

You also don't need to worry about analyzing the psychological complexities of your problem, either. He pointed out, "Your Father knows what you need before you ask Him."

Energy Expert To Speak

University of Michigan physicist and energy expert, Professor Marc Ross, who will speak in March at a public meeting in St. Joseph, was in Denver Friday where he addressed the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Ross' appearance in the Twin Cities, which will be jointly sponsored by the University of Michigan Alumni club of Benton Harbor and St. Joseph and United for Survival, will be at 8 p.m. Tuesday, March 29, at Zion Evangelical and Reformed United Church of Christ, St. Joseph.

His topic will be "Our Energy Use Today — Our Environment Tomorrow."

Ross told AAAS members that United States energy policy-making could be greatly enhanced if we adopted a simple index to the energy efficiency of any system.

Such an index would help us move from our preoccupation with increasing energy supplies to improving energy conservation techniques, Ross said.

"We need to have a common basis for comparing quantities of energy. Our current method of direct comparison can be misleading. Equating thermal and non-thermal energies such as heat and electricity is a matter of 'apples and oranges' — they shouldn't be interchanged unless you figure in a conversion factor," Ross said.

"What we really should compare is not the energy itself but the amount of 'available work' that can be produced from it. And that involves specifying the task that this energy is to perform."

Series On Death And Dying Scheduled During Lent

A series of four talks on "Understanding Death and Dying" will be presented during Lent by the Adult Enrichment Program of Tri-Parish Religious Education.

Theodore W. Hengesbach, PhD, director of adult religious education, St. Joseph church, South Bend, Ind., will be director for the series.

Among topics to be considered are "My Death — A Search for Death's Meaning;" "A Saint Reacts to Death;" "Catholic Doctrine About Death and Its Meaning Today;" and "The Bible and the Death of Jesus."

The lectures will be held Wednesdays in Lent at 8 p.m. beginning March 2. They will be held alternately between two locations, Session 1, March 2, at Lake Michigan Catholic high school, room 5; Session 2, March 9, St. Joseph Catholic church annex, Stevensville.

Each session will conclude with a prayer service. The lectures will provide information about aspects of death — immortality, resurrection, reincarnation, life after death, grief and grieving, Catholic teaching about death and contemporary research on death and dying.

The series will give participants an opportunity to reflect on death, to discuss it with other adults and hopefully to come to a fuller personal understanding of its reality and meaning.

According to Hengesbach, "This program is for parents whose children ask about death; for the elderly for whom death may be near; for those who believe the truths that Catholicism offers; for those who don't — or who wish they could; for those who seek some consolation, or who need to comfort others."

"We all have questions about death. It takes courage to face these questions in search of some answers. Does death really fit into a Catholic-Christian understanding of life. This is a chance to do something you probably don't want to do, but it won't be all gloom. It is a serious subject, but there will be time to relax — even laugh. My hope is that you'll feel better for doing it."

Hengesbach holds a PhD in historical-systematic theology from the University of Notre Dame. His dissertation was on "John Henry Newman's Theology of Death," a study of Newman's personal experience and reaction to death and how this was reflected in his theology of death. Hengesbach developed and taught the course "Theology of Death" at Notre Dame beginning in 1970 and continuing for four semesters and a summer. Since 1972, he has been the director of adult religious education at St. Joseph church, South Bend, Ind.

According to Sister Ann Maloney, director of adult education for Tri-Parish Religious Education, each of the sessions is an entity in itself. The series may be attended in whole or in part.

Sacred Concert Sunday At Coloma

Westfield is a concert organist who has performed throughout the Midwest. He has also served as organist for the "Back to God Hour" from Grand Rapids and is associate organist at Fountain Street church in Grand Rapids. He has made several stereo recordings on the Allen organ.

Accompanying Westfield will be Boyd Mackus, a baritone soloist, a professor of music at Calvin college, Grand Rapids.

The Allen Computer Church Organs are a new concept in musical sound production. Sounds and tones are produced by means of computers which have memorized the harmonic structures of a given sound on a keyboard.

'DAY OF CLARITY'

Purim Is March 4

Celebrated by the Jews as the "day of clarity," Purim, which falls on March 4 in this Hebrew year 5737 serves as a reminder to them of the Lord's protection of his people.

Purim was the name given to lots drawn by Haman, enemy of the Jewish people, in which one month would be designated for their destruction.

The day of Purim was instituted by Mordecai, according to the Book of Esther, to celebrate the deliverance of the Jews from their terrible fate.

Falling on the 14th of Adar, "the day of Mordecai," as it was originally called, has through the years become a day of minor, yet festive, activity.

On this day, the family attends early morning services and then rushes home to begin the gaieties.

The reading of the Scroll of Esther, known as the Megillah, is a tradition of Purim. It is customary to lay the scroll on the table before the reader, folded like the letter it represents. The Megillah is often handsomely decorated with scenes from its narrative.

As the Megillah is being read, the children of the family hold rattles which they shake loudly at the mention of evil Haman's name. The noise is meant to chase the memory of Haman's deeds from the minds of the Jewish people.

As the reader approaches the names of the 10 sons of Haman, he reads them swiftly and in one breath, signifying their simultaneous execution.

There is an Israeli tradition among poor school children to make an effigy of Haman out of cloth and straw. This likeness of Haman is taken through the streets and either burned or beaten in protest of his dreadful acts.

Throughout the day plays are performed in celebration of Purim. These plays are parodies, the most famous of which is the Masskehet Purim, the parody of the Talmud.

In the Masskehet, the characters partake in holiday rituals, believing it is their obligation on Purim to drink wine and liqueurs and keep strictly away from water.

Dedicate Graduates

BENTON SPRINGS — The World Mission Institute held on the campus of Andrews university, resulted in the dedication of 34 persons to the overseas mission work of the Seventh-day Adventist church in a service held at Pioneer Memorial church.

One missionary under appointment by the Mennonite church also participated.

The six-week long orientation session for mission workers was brought to a close by Mission Emphasis Week, Feb. 18-22 at Andrews.

C.O. Franz of Washington, D.C., secretary of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, and Roy Williams, also of Washington, associate secretary, were guest speakers for the weekend. They also interviewed prospective missionaries from the Andrews student body.

"We have found a very fine response on the Andrews campus," said Franz. "This university sends an average of 25 students each year into mission service under the student missionary program and we think this sets the stage for a very deep interest in missions on this campus. Andrews graduates are working in many parts of the world in the mission program and we are extremely gratified with our reception here this year."

AU Hosts Mission Institute

Williams, far right, from Seventh-day Adventist world headquarters, Washington, D.C.

Klimes, coordinator of Missions Emphasis Week, "Specific guidance is also given to individuals who desire to serve the church abroad," said Klimes.

Graduates of the mission institute are headed for developing countries in Africa, Latin America, the Far East and other remote parts of the world. The Seventh-day Adventist church currently is organized in 192 countries.

The POWER of FAITH
By WOODI ISHMAEL

THE BIBLE
No. 280. Amos

Amos was a shepherd and keeper of fruit trees in the village of Tekoa. Keenly aware of the social inequities of the time, he condemned the oppression of the poor by the wealthy and the powerful, the dishonest merchants, those who diverted justice by bribery, and the idleness and luxury of the rich.

Nature, as the rich creation of God, figured prominently in the phrasing of his prophecies. "And he said, The Lord will roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and the habitations of the shepherds shall mourn, and the top of Carmel shall wither" (Amos 1:12).

Although Amos was a wrathful prophet, he maintained that those who returned to the proper faith and life could be saved. "Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live; and so the Lord, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken. Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate: it may be that the Lord God of hosts will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph." (Amos 5:14-15)

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Animals Have Feelings, Too

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell me I did the right thing. I feel so guilty. At the same time, warn your readers to think twice before they get a pet for a child who is too young to treat him properly.

I love animals and have always wanted a dog. But I decided not to get one until our children were old enough to handle the responsibility. Unfortunately, a friend surprised s with a puppy. He was so cute we just had to take him.

Our son is three years old. He doesn't know a puppy is a living thing that digs, bites, chews, barks, cries and should not be squeezed hard or pulled by the tail or ears. I soon discovered the boy could not be trusted alone with the puppy and decided the animal would be better off with the SPCA. I hoped another family would adopt him. I cried when I left him there.

Whenever I think of that sweet little pet, I get a lump in my throat. Please tell me I did the right thing, Ann. — Feeling Guilty

Dear Friend: You did. Now, forget it. On the plus side, your letter gives me an opportunity to remind my readers not to buy or accept pets as gifts, unless someone in the family is prepared to care for them properly and protect them against the innocent cruelty of young children.

Prefers Boys

Dear Miss Landers: I am a 16-year-old boy. My parents enjoy a very solid economic position in the small town where we live.

Since I was 14, I realized I was a homosexual. Even though I have tried hard to overcome it I've been unable to succeed. I finally came to the conclusion that girls are not for me.

I have fallen in love with a kid my age whose parents and mine are close friends. That's the reason I have never ventured to tell him how I feel. But I can't wait any longer. My life without this kid isn't worth living. It has come to a point where my whole life belongs to him even though he doesn't know it.

Can you give me some advice? Please don't tell me to try girls again. I can't and won't. — Young Lover

Dear Y.L.: You need professional help — not to get straight, but to ventuate your frustrations and anxieties.

Pent-up emotions can create serious problems. Get some counseling right away. You can tell your parents you are depressed. If there is no therapist in town, go to the school counselor or a mental health clinic — the sooner the better.

Don't Ask

Dear Ann Landers: My sister-in-law considers herself an authority on every subject. I was in her home last Friday and she asked me for the 20th time if I would like a cup of tea. She has a habit of doing that and it has always irritated me. I decided to speak up.

ANN LANDERS

I explained that a hostess isn't supposed to ASK a guest if she wants something — she's supposed to go ahead and serve it. My sister-in-law claims some people don't want refreshments and it's dumb to "go ahead and serve." Who is right? — An Asker

Dear SKER: The hostess who ASKS puts the burden on the guest. This is impolite. The gracious hostess prepares refreshments in advance and serves them.

Discover how to be date bait without falling hook, line and sinker. Ann Landers's booklet, "Dating Do's and Don'ts," will help you be more poised and sure of yourself on dates. Send 30 cents in coin along with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

South covered West's queen of spades lead with dummy's king. He always covered an honor with an honor and anyway what did he have to lose?

He found out quickly. East returned a spade to his partner and West shifted to a club. South decided to try a double finesse with dummy's 10. East took the jack and shifted to a trump. Some time later on, South lost a club finesse to East's king and the contract had abated.

As South pointed out, three cards out of three had been wrong. Now let's see what would have happened if South had played low from dummy. West could shift to a club. In that case South would rise with dummy's ace, draw trumps, cash his top diamonds to get rid of dummy's king of spades and lose one spade trick instead of two.

Suppose West played a second spade. East would win and lead back a diamond or a trump.

South would pull trumps, cash the diamonds, lead a club, finesse dummy's 10 and let East try to find a way to collect a fourth trick. There wouldn't be any.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
It's the little things that you'll say that will really count today. A few kind words make a big impact.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
A prestigious contact could pass on some profitable information today. If the idea sounds like a money-maker, move on it.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
You're strongly in the thoughts of someone today who resides at a considerable distance. Don't be surprised if he calls or writes.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
It's very important to keep to yourself that which is told to you in confidence today, particularly if you promise to do so.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
You have a way of making suggestions today that is both helpful and eagerly received.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
The reason you'll fare better than most today is because you're aware of the importance of details others will overlook.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
You'll be more at ease today and have a far more enjoyable time if you associate with persons whose philosophy is in harmony with yours.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
As far as super-sleuths go, you are not likely to meet your equal today. Others will have difficulty hiding anything from you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Partnership situations are favored today provided you both think as one. Together, you're dynamite.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
The old adage, "A penny saved is a penny earned," is pertinent advice to follow today. Cut corners where possible.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
Things start brightening up a bit when you make the scene at gatherings today. Your wit is the catalyst the party needs.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
Insights you get regarding family matters are worth serious consideration. Your intuition is quite keen today.

For Monday, Feb. 28, 1977

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Certain domestic undertakings are due for you, but don't try to foist them off on your mate. They're not her cup of tea.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
You have time to enjoy life, but you tend to shirk responsibility. Chances are, you'll fall behind in your work.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
You tend to indulge your whims today, which takes a bite out of profits.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Being nice on a purely social basis comes easy to you today. Sadly, with family and close associates, you're not so affable.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
People do things for you today, just because you're you. Bring others into the act and your benefactors will back off.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Do the missionary work in a business situation today, but don't try to close the deal. Hasty wrap-ups deprive you of a greater return.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Today and tomorrow are good days carcerwise. They'll be even better once you get the attention of the c in key positions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
You dominate things today, even when you're not present. The only fly in the ointment is one who takes pot shots from behind the scenes.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Joint ventures promise the greatest yield today, but not without problems. Keep your partner in line so you both can enjoy the advantages.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Someone you're closely associated with may try to take credit for something you've done. What's the difference, as long as you accomplish what you set out to do?

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
Opportunity abounds for you today. Knockle down and win or let up and lose.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
If you have to make a choice between people you like and those to whom you're obligated, choose the former. You can't possibly please the latter today.

STEPHEN ANKENBRANDT
Four-hour surgery

Surgery Is Last Resort

KANSAS CITY, KAN. (AP) — Doctors have removed the right half of Stephen Ankenbrandt's skull, and they are confident the operation has saved his life from a rare ailment, Reye's syndrome.

Dr. Robert A. Morantz, a neurosurgeon, in a four-hour operation last Sunday removed half of the 14-year-old's skull and opened the sheath surrounding the brain so it could expand through the opening.

The Manhattan, Kan., youth was unconscious Friday, as he had been for a week. But his doctors at the University of Kansas Medical Center reported he made significant gains and no longer was in critical condition.

Reye's Syndrome strikes children, damaging their livers and producing severe swelling of the brain. It first was identified in 1963 by an Australian pathologist.

Its cause has not been determined, but some physicians think it is linked to a virus. The federal Center for Disease Control at Atlanta has reported 20 cases in the first six weeks of this year, an increase over past years that public health officials think may be connected with influenza B.

There is no specific treatment for Reye's Syndrome and doctors say Stephen was the first patient at the Kansas hospital to undergo radical head surgery for it.

GI Loan Applicant Finds He's 'Deserter'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Larry Florea's army career was confused, but he thought he'd left it all behind when he took off his uniform 6½ years ago. Not until he applied for a Veterans Administration loan did he find out he'd been classified a deserter.

Now Florea is back in the Army at Fort Knox, Ky., demanding an honorable discharge.

"I just can't believe the whole thing," said his wife Janet, who was given permission to see her husband today for the first time since his arrest last Tuesday.

Florea's attorney, Jerry D. Bryant, said Friday that the situation is a typical military mixup.

He said Florea was drafted in 1970 and sent to Fort Eustice, Va., but was sent home when military officials couldn't find his records.

Bryant said Florea soon was ordered back, but arrived at the military base only to be sent home again "to await orders." The orders never came through, he said.

"He tried for another year and a half" to straighten things out, "then got tired of trying," Bryant said.

That was five years ago. Last year, the Floreas had their third child and decided their mobile home in Blanchester, Ohio, was too small. They applied for a VA loan toward a new house.

That's when the Army said Florea never had been discharged and was a deserter.

"I really had an injustice done to me," said Florea, a mechanic. "I definitely want a clear record and I want out."

Florea appealed to U.S. Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, because a discharge was needed for the VA loan. The senator told Florea to report to Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton. Florea did, and promptly was arrested and jailed. On Friday he was transported to Ft. Knox' personnel processing center.

Major Jerry Gantt, an Army public information officer, said he did not know whether Florea's records ever had been lost, but he said the Army has them now. Florea has been carried as a deserter since October 1970, Gantt said, and the matter would have to be investigated.

Gantt said he doubted that Florea would be given an honorable discharge. Instead, he predicted, he would be offered freedom with a discharge other than honorable.

Florea, however, said he will demand an honorable discharge, and will sue rather than accept any other discharge.

"The important thing is to get the man out so he can go back to work," said Bryant. "He is the sole support of his family."

Gantt said Florea probably would have to stand before a court martial if he does not accept the less-than-honorable discharge.

The Army believes he had an obligation to straighten out his situation before leaving the service, Gantt said.

He added that Florea would not have qualified for the VA loan in any case because he had not served the required 180 days of military duty.

Conviction Ends Riches-To-Rags Story

NEW YORK (AP) — Lowell Birrell, ordered to serve a one-year larceny sentence in the Rikers Island Hospital, is a riches-to-rags story.

The 70-year-old former tycoon, who suffers from a heart condition, had constructed an empire that included some 40 companies and was valued at $60 million. But after 1957, when he fled the country to avoid a criminal investigation, his fortune — and fortunes — faded.

When he was sentenced Friday, Birrell told State Supreme Court Justice George Postel that he is without funds. He said he is supported by a 30-year-old son who earns $150 to $200 a week as a waiter in Brigantine, N.J.

Birrell fled the country after federal and state authorities began the Swan-Finch investigation. Authorities claimed Birrell bought companies on short-term loans, milked their treasuries, paid off the loans, then pocketed the difference.

Strikers Rally At U-M

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Some 300 striking service workers and student supporters rallied Friday at the University of Michigan to demand a return to the bargaining table in the three-day old walkout. U-M President Robben Fleming told the group resuming negotiations "is greatly dependent on your union. You know that your bargaining team arrived at a tentative agreement ... Your leadership took it back and you rejected it." A woman in the crowd answered, "We turned it down because the majority thought it stunk." Members of Local 1583 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees walked off their jobs Wednesday after rejecting the tentative contract settlement union leaders had recommended, 1,311-314. That pact called for a 55-cent hourly wage increase over two years. The basic hourly wage is $4.40. No talks have been held since then, and a university spokesman said none are scheduled.

Asks Protection, Not Spying

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Intelligence Committee's chairman says he asked the CIA and FBI to protect the panel's members and staff from "foreign intrusion." But Sen. Daniel Inouye denied in a statement Friday that he had asked either agency to place committee members under surveillance. However, the senator's account of that request at a White House leadership meeting apparently led some listeners to believe he had asked the U.S. intelligence agencies to spy on the members. The Hawaii Democrat says no one has been placed under surveillance.

GM Diesels Due In '78

General Motors Corp. will introduce a diesel engine on four vehicles for the 1978 model year. The move makes GM the first U.S. automaker to offer the fuel-slinging engines as a factory-installed option. GM Chairman Thomas Murphy said Friday the engines, to be available this fall, will be offered as options on full-sized Oldsmobile 88 and 98 cars and on Chevrolet and GMC pickup trucks. "Since these engines promise to produce fuel economy that is 25 per cent better than that found in a conventional gasoline engine of similar horsepower, we think this will be a significant contribution to the nation's energy conservation efforts," Murphy told a luncheon audience at the Chicago Auto Show. A GM official in Detroit said the engines would be made at the Olds plant in Lansing, Mich.

Milliken Seeks Backers

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken urged Senate leaders Friday to support his order transferring authority to regulate trucks to the state police. The policing of truckers on Michigan highways is carried out by the Public Service Commission. Milliken wants to transfer 81 weighmasters to the state police. "This transfer is particularly important during this time of increased truck accidents and the need for additional enforcement," Milliken said. "Coordination of our motor carrier laws and regulations will be markedly improved through this change." He characterized as "irresponsible" charges that giving state police the extra power is a step toward a super agency or police state.

In Wake Of Shootout

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Two young Pontiac men were being held on assault and robbery charges Friday following a morning gun battle between police and a pair of men who held three hostages. One of the men under arrest, 17-year-old Renaldo Richardson, was wounded in the shootout and hospitalized in serious condition, police said. The other man, 18-year-old Donald Richardson, was not injured or involved in the gunfire, said police. All three hostages escaped injury. The men, who police said are not related, allegedly broke into the home of John McAllister, 62, of Pontiac. Authorities said McAllister was tied to a chair while his 62-year-old wife Ruth and his 85-year-old father, John W. McAllister, were held hostage during the 20-minute shootout.

Crim Hails Debt Extension

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — House Speaker Bobby Crim has hailed attempts to give Michigan businesses more time to repay a $624 million federal unemployment compensation debt. Congressman William Brodhead, D-Mich., has introduced an amendment to defer repayment for an additional two years. The money state businesses owe the federal government for providing unemployment benefits could reach $700 million by the end of the year. Crim, D-Detroit, said the Brodhead amendment would recognize the scope of Michigan's unemployment problem. "Michigan's huge unemployment compensation debt is largely the result of national economic policies," said Crim.

Bukovsky Urges Pressure

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Soviet dissident Vladimir K. Bukovsky says the Carter Administration should maintain its stand for human rights in the Soviet Union even at the risk of triggering more "cruelty and repression." Bukovsky told the AFL-CIO Executive Council on Friday that despite fears of a harsh Soviet reaction to the campaign to aid dissidents, "The most important thing is to acquire patience, not lower your guard, not to expect speedy and immediate results." The 34-year-old exiled biologist praised President Carter's stand for human rights and also urged union leaders to watch U.S. corporate investment in the Soviet Union to ensure that profit isn't made at the expense of human rights.

Carter A Grandad

CAMP DAVID, Md. (AP) — The new grandfather was all smiles, holding his wife's hand and proclaiming the new baby resembled his daughter-in-law, not his son. The new grandfather was President Carter. After three helicopter flights between Washington and Camp David in less than five hours Friday night, the President chatted about the baby, talked glowingly of the presidential retreat in the Catoctin Mountains and predicted the situation in Uganda "is going to be all right." The newest member of the Carter family, black-haired James Earl Carter IV, was born at 8:41 p.m. EST, Friday. He weighed seven pounds. The parents are the President's son, James Earl III, known as Chip, and daughter-in-law Carol.

FIRE SCENE: Two firefighters stand near blanket-covered body of Leola Haynes, 82, after blaze swept through fourth-floor of a senior citizens apartment house in Detroit Friday. Delays Hamper Firemen

DETROIT (AP) — An elderly woman burned to death when a fire swept through a home for elderly and handicapped persons and firecrews were delayed by locked doors and a faulty emergency phone connection. A second woman died from injuries suffered in the 2-alarm blaze and two other persons suffered smoke inhalation, fire officials said. About 120 of the building's 310 residents are handicapped, officials at the apartment building said. Some of the disabled are confined to wheelchairs and live on the top floor of the modern 11-story apartment building, he added. "People were hanging out windows to escape the smoke," one resident said. "One guy in a wheelchair looked like he was going to try and jump. I yelled at him to wait, and they brought him down with a ladder." Some 100 residents had to be rescued from the apartment building, fire officials estimated. The fire apparently broke out in a bed at the fourth-floor apartment occupied by 82-year-old Leola Haynes, fire officials said. Mrs. Haynes was trapped in her apartment and was pronounced dead at the scene. Beatrice Bonner, 56, was dead on arrival at Detroit General Hospital. Both women lived at St. Patrick's Cooperative Apartments. It was nearly 15 minutes before firefighters could be notified of the blaze, said apartment manager Oakley Adams. Adams said it took him that long to complete a call to Detroit's emergency telephone system. Some 40 firemen responded to the alarm. Their efforts were hampered because doors leading to a stairwell were locked, said Patrick Ryan, former president of the apartment co-op. He said the doors were locked to keep out intruders. Once firemen got inside the building, it took them only 15 minutes to control the blaze, officials said.

New Rules Will Not Ban Tankers

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Proposed new state rules to increase the safety of tanker trucks would reduce the trucks' speed limit, but not ban the rigs from any Michigan highways, say state officials. Milliken's legal advisor, said the tentative rules will be reviewed by the governor and the attorney general before State Police Director Col. George Halverson is given the go-ahead to announce them. Then Milliken must agree there is an emergency, and the rules will be filed with the secretary of state before taking effect. A rash of accidents involving tanker trucks carrying flammable liquids prompted Milliken and Halverson to discuss tighter safety measures. They said the trucks would be banned from certain state highways during peak traffic hours or hazardous weather conditions, and be required to observe lower speed limits and other new regulations. Frankland said the rules will include: —A reduced speed limit, probably by five miles an hour. —Spelling out "assured clear distance" requirements for trucks, to force truckers to remain well behind vehicles in front of them. —Tighter rules on tire conditions and hitches which connect tandem tankers, and on carrying certain types of fire extinguishers.

Hearing Scheduled On Fuel-Saving Plan

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Testimony will begin Tuesday on a controversial proposal to insulate every Michigan home and install gas-saving furnace devices without direct cost to customers. Representatives of eight Michigan gas utilities will lead off the two-day hearing on the proposal made last year by state Public Service Commission Chairman Daniel Demlow. Utilities have been asked to comment on Demlow's proposal or come up with their own conservation plans. Demlow says his plan would reduce the state's need for natural gas by nine per cent. Under the plan, gas utilities would install the insulation and the furnace devices on homes that needed or wanted them. The cost of the program would boost gas rates by about 13 cents per mcf, but households could save up to $80 a year because of lower gas use, the PSC staff says. The proposal would cost utilities an estimated $117 million a year. That expense would be recovered through higher gas rates over 15 to 20 years.

Congressional Panel Says: Youth Gangs Are Back

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With names like the Baby Macaronies, the Jolly Stompers and the Roman Kings, youth gangs like those that flourished in the 1950s are back, a congressional panel reports.

The resurgence is centered mainly around several large cities and certain suburban areas, where they are contributing to the growing problem of school crime and violence, a Senate Judiciary subcommittee said Friday.

On a national basis, gangs are not the cause of most school violence, the report found. But it added:

"... it is clear that in those cities and suburban areas experiencing a resurgence of violent gang activities the schools are also feeling the effects of the return of the armies of the street."

Among the cities with gang problems are New York City, Los Angeles, Detroit, Philadelphia, Chicago and San Francisco, said the report, which noted that the last gang era occurred in the 1950s and early 1960s.

"In some schools gangs operate narcotics or protection rings," the report said. "Gangs also have been known to take over whole sections of a school building such as certain restrooms and locker rooms and charge other students 'fees' for the use of the facilities."

There also are random shakedown or extortion operations, it said, where a gang member might demand lunch money from classmates under threats of retaliation if they refuse.

The report said school violence and vandalism has become a serious and at times critical problem in American education.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., subcommittee chairman, said vandalism in the schools costs about $600 million a year and 70,000 serious physical assaults occur on teachers and hundreds of thousands of assaults on students in the schools each year.

Bayh discussed the report at the opening of a three-day conference on school violence sponsored by the National Education Association.

The NEA, an organization of teachers and educators, has estimated that some 100 murders, 12,000 armed robberies, 9,000 rapes and more than 200,000 aggravated assaults are committed in schools each year against teachers and students.

The subcommittee report stressed the need for community cooperation with the schools in efforts to curb school violence.

It recommended alternatives to suspension, such as cooling-off rooms or behavior contracts, for lesser offenses. A great number of incidents involving school violence and vandalism are caused by school-age intruders who are not enrolled in school, it said.

Today In History

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, Feb. 26. There are 308 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1531, an earthquake in Portugal killed tens of thousands of people and flattened much of Lisbon and other cities.

On this date: In 1521, the Spanish governor of Puerto Rico, Ponce de Leon, sailed from San Juan on his second expedition to Florida.

In 1802, one of the great figures in French literature, Victor Hugo, was born.

In 1918, during World War I, German planes bombed the Italian city of Venice.

In 1919, the U.S. Congress established Grand Canyon National Park in Arizona.

In 1971, there was heavy fighting between North Vietnamese and South Vietnamese forces inside Laos.

In 1974, Ethiopian army units seized the second largest city in that country, Asmara.

Ten years ago: Five U.S. warships bombed supply lines and a munitions depot on the coast of North Vietnam.

Five years ago: More than three dozen people were killed in the mining town of Logan, W. Va., when a huge coal slag heap serving as a dam burst under the pressure of torrential rains.

One year ago: The leaders of Portugal's armed forces and the five main political parties signed an agreement to end military rule and establish a parliamentary democracy.

Today's birthdays: Comedian Jackie Gleason is 61 years old. Former movie star Betty Hutton is 56.

Thought for today: Only the really plain people know about love. The very fashionable ones try so hard to create an impression they soon exhaust their talents — Katharine Hepburn.

Plan Decor Before You Build

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

In planning now for that new house come spring, make sure you've given enough thought to details. Do you really want that unusual, colored tile in your bathroom or kitchen? Will there be enough space in the fireplace area to make a cozy living room niche with your oversized sofa?

Taking the time to consider such problems while you can still alter a house plan may avoid a lot of grief. Often there are so many big decisions to make in connection with a new house that some details are overlooked.

Acquiring a good book on decorating can be very helpful while house planning is in progress. It can help circumvent problems because a lot of decorating later will revolve around the interior architecture, which cannot be manipulated at will.

"Every part of the decorating process comes back to planning," points out William Hague in "The Complete Basic and apartments in the last two decades. In putting his book together he tried to make it as timeless as possible with many illustrations, some in color. And many of the ideas may have instant appeal for people who home owner will be ready for queries from builders, masons, painters. It should alert top-of-the-head answers that aren't explicit. For example, what is yellow, what is blue? Colors are open to interpretation unless the exact color can be seen by the people discussing it.

Interior color planning may not receive much thought beyond a potential color scheme for each room. But how will the colors look from room to room? When handling a house plan, this point may be forgotten. Hague stresses the importance of color and he lists 50 of the most common color mistakes, which include:

- Using bizarre or offbeat colors in ceramic tile, laminate counters or other fixed architectural elements in kitchen or bathroom.
- Copying exact color schemes of model rooms in stores and houses. They usually don't come off.
- Using cold colors if a room faces north, hot ones if the room faces south.
- Having the idea that because a house is old it cannot be treated in a contemporary way. A Victorian house can respond brilliantly to a modern color scheme.
- Permitting one dominant element, such as an old-fashioned, red brick fireplace, to spoil a color scheme. There can be no sacred cows in decorating.

Other ideas that may affect architectural planning could include lighting — choices might include luminous ceiling panels, cove or cornice lighting, valances, soffits. Floors may be flagstone, marble, slate, brick, oak block, ceramic, vinyl, rubber, cork, asphalt. Walls should be considered carefully. One may want mirrored walls, special shell systems, wood paneling or whatever. It should all be planned from scratch because it may take time. It will be easier on the builder and your pocketbook. Then, too, there are builders who will tell you it is too late to do anything different once they've put the first nail in the house.

Here's The Answer

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Q. — We have moved into a house which has a cork floor in the living room. Actually, it is covered with cork tiles laid to give the impression of a parquet wood floor. I have since heard that the tile will last a lot longer if coated with a penetrating sealer. How can I tell whether there already is a sealer on the floor?

A. — First, for the sake of accuracy, the word "coated" is usually used when the finishing material is varnish, shellac or lacquer and not when it is a penetrating sealer. Try this test to determine whether the floor has been sealed. Put a drop of water on whichever area of the floor appears to be worn the most. If the floor is sealed, the water will form into a bead on the surface. If not, it will sink into the cork and disappear.

Benton Building Activity Showing Signs Of Spring

Building permits issued in Benton township this week showed signs of spring and recovery from winter. Permits to build four greenhouses and to repair snow damage to a manufacturing plant led the list of permits issued by Chester Sluck, chief of buildings and inspection.

A $6,920 permit was issued to Leonard Herriman of 2151 Yore avenue to build four greenhouses on land he owns at 1351 Yore avenue. Pearson Construction company of Benton Harbor was issued an $8,000 permit to repair roof damage caused by an accumulation of snow at the Gast Manufacturing plant, 2300 M-136. Part of the manufacturing plant's roof collapsed Feb. 3 due to accumulated snow on roof.

Others issued permits include:

— Bobby R. Brown, Stevensville, to make general repairs to a dwelling owned by Varnish Swift at 1348 Superior street for $3,200.

— Robert Sommerfeldt, Benton Center road, to enclose a side of a barn, $2,500.

— Wyatt Vondran Construction company, Coloma, to make general repairs to a dwelling owned by Marion Quaglin at 1748 Riverside road, $1,800.

— Vond Thomas, Benton Harbor, to repair fire damage to a house at 1790 Highland avenue owned by Grace Hampton, $1,000.

Proper Caulking Can Prevent Expensive Home Repair Bills

One of the least-understood yet most important ways to prevent home repair bills is proper caulking.

Doing the job right can lower fuel bills, prevent water damage, and save you from having to do it all over again. Yet, surprisingly, few homeowners are as skilled as they should be at this relatively simple home maintenance task.

The major question you should ask yourself when beginning a caulking job is what kind of material to use. An ideal caulk should be extremely easy to use, stick to a wide variety of surfaces, become tack-free quickly, be readily tooled and cleaned up with water, compatible with any paint, highly durable and remain flexible for life.

Does an ideal caulk exist?

Acrylic latex caulks are billed as perhaps the closest thing to the ideal for the homeowner. Recent improvements in adhesion, flexibility and durability have made acrylic latex caulks suitable for applications where high-quality performance is desired at moderate cost.

New acrylic caulks are compatible with both oil- and water-based paints, extremely durable and easy to handle and apply. Shortly after application, acrylic caulk becomes tack-free, enabling the material to resist dirt and dust pickup and allow painting within 30-60 minutes. Acrylic latex caulks are easily cleaned up.

They are not affected significantly by sunlight and have excellent resistance to cracking, peeling and loss of adhesion, flexibility and color.

Acrylic caulks perform well on a wide variety of surfaces: wood, concrete, brick, glass, plaster, metal, drywall, paint, ceramic and plastic — even if these surfaces are not completely dry. High-quality acrylic latex caulks can be used for every around-the-house caulking job, indoors or out, except where there is significant joint movement.

Look Twice -- It May Be Hardboard Instead

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

If you can't judge a book by its cover, you most certainly can't tell hardboard by its face.

Once easily identifiable by its smooth, hard, grainless surface, it now may be hiding behind plastic finishes that simulate birch, walnut, marble, lace and virtually any kind of material you can name.

It's used for exterior and interior walls, floors, desk tops, doors, fences, game tables, wardrobes, radiator enclosures, shutters, folding screens, clothes hampers and, again, almost anything you can name.

Hardboard is not, as some suppose, a synthetic. It is made from regular logs that have been converted to chips, then to wood fibers, and permanently bonded together under heat and pressure.

What is called standard hardboard is for most interior purposes. Tempered hardboard is for use outdoors and for those interior places where high strength, moisture resistance and abrasion resistance are required.

"GUNNING" ACRYLIC LATEX: Acrylic latex caulks are billed perhaps the closest thing to the ideal caulking compound for homeowners. Recent improvements in adhesion, flexibility and durability have made acrylic latex caulks suitable for applications where high-quality performance is desired at moderate cost, such as around windows.

Tests Reveal No PBB Taint In Gratiot Wells

By SUSAN AGER
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State officials have voiced fears that water supply may be tainted in the vicinity of a Gratiot County landfill where Michigan Chemical Co. dumped PBB-contaminated wastes from 1971-73.

But preliminary test results released Friday night showed seven wells in the St. Louis, Mich., area contained undetectable levels of the toxic fire retardant chemical.

"It's good news — so far," said Bill McCracken, chief of comprehensive studies for the state Department of Natural Resources. He added that further well water tests would continue.

The DNR learned only last week that Michigan Chemical, which once manufactured PBB at its St. Louis plant, had dumped 269,000 pounds of chemical waste into the landfill without a permit.

Initial tests at the landfill Wednesday turned up PBB levels in the soil as high as 17 parts per million, triggering the testing of well water, according to Richard Powers of the DNR water quality division.

The allowable level of the chemical in food is .3 parts per million.

"We don't know just how severe the problem is at this point," DNR Director Howard

Tanner said early Friday. "I have directed our field investigators and laboratory people to work around the clock until we have this information."

Investigators were trying specifically to determine whether the chemical has seeped from the landfill into ground water that supplies wells in the central Michigan county.

But McCracken said, "the first indication is we don't have it in any of the wells we sampled."

The other concern, according to DNR officials, is that surface water containing PBB might runoff into streams or ponds. Powers said some surface water samples showed just over .02 parts per million of PBB — a relatively small quantity.

But levels in the surface water were higher than those found downstream in the Pine River, into which Michigan Chemical discharged wastes for several years, officials said.

Michigan Chemical produced PBB until 1974, but announced last year it was halting its Michigan operation and moving to Arkansas.

Polybrominated biphenyl (PBB) is the chemical that was accidentally mixed with Michigan livestock feed in 1973. Thousands of contaminated animals have been slaughtered since the poisoning was discovered in 1974. Tests have tentatively linked PBB-tainted food with health problems in some farm families.

DNR officials said the disclosure of the chemical dumping in the county landfill was contained in answers it gave to a U. S. Environmental Protection Agency questionnaire.

An official of Michigan Chemical, which has changed its name to Velsicol Chemical Co., said Friday from company headquarters in Chicago that the firm had not heard of the landfill problem.

"We're usually the last to know," he said.

The company decided to shut down its Michigan operation in part because cleaning up PBB residues at its plant and in the Pine River would cost too much money.

Last September, Michigan Chemical agreed to pay a $20,000 fine to the state for polluting the Pine River and the state agreed to drop a suit against the company. Under the settlement the company also was to locate and dispose of PBB and end discharges into the river by September 1978.

At one time, 1.5 pounds of PBB were discharged into the Pine River daily and fish showed significant PBB levels.

plained. Ground under the old bridge has stabilized with use; placing the bridge anywhere else will require man-made balancing with tons of dirt.

After being assured that new permits could be gotten, William MacCreedy, top engineer with the highway department, agreed to change the earlier decision and build beside the Somerdayton bridge.

From waterline to bottom of bridge will be 11 feet, a fact that some boaters were concerned about. Clearance of the present bridge is 16 feet. VanKampen said he'd try to increase the clearance of the new structure.

Half of the new bridge will stand directly over the old. The centerlines of the bridges will differ only 27 feet, but the difference will cost about $200,000, VanKampen said. Fill material and a slightly different design will raise the cost from $1.2 million to $1.4 million, he said.

State Sen. Charles O. Zollar, of Benton Harbor, said he was pleased with the meeting but added "I can't accept the two-year delay" in beginning the project. Both he and State Rep. Harry Gast, Jr., of St. Joseph, said they would use their influence to speed the start of construction.

Pair Accused Of Street Fight

Benton township police said two men were booked on charges of disorderly conduct after treatment at Mercy hospital for injuries allegedly sustained in a street fight at Highland avenue and Concord early this morning. Seized by police were the handle portion of a broken bottle and a window scraper knife.

The motive for the fight investigated about 1 a.m. wasn't determined, police said.

Lodged in jail were Andrew Collier Jr., 19, of 690 East Vineyard, and Tony J. Albert, 20, of 194 Lake street, both of Benton Harbor. Police said Albert was treated with 25 stitches for cuts about the head and neck, while Collier was treated for lesser cuts and a blow on the head.

Benton Harbor police said two people were booked on a total of four charges during investigations of separate reports of unlawful use of autos received within an hour and a half this morning.

None of the charges involved unlawful use of autos, because relatives who owned the vehicles declined to press these charges, police said. However, one of the reports led to the use of a state tracking dog to help search a ravine while the other involved a minor collision with a parked auto.

Police said a 16-year-old boy of Benton Harbor was ticketed for reckless driving shortly after 12:30 a.m. The other driver, identified as Charles Jackson, 18, of 381 Highland avenue, was arrested about 1:41 a.m. He was booked on charges of leaving the scene of a properly damaged accident, no operator's license, and driving under the influence of intoxicants.

Police said the boy was located in a ravine with the aid of a tracking dog, following a chase from the 600 block of Colfax avenue to the end of Pavane by the ravine. Police said Jackson was arrested at Highland and McCord, also following a chase. Police said the auto allegedly struck a parked auto in the 600 block of Pearl street, causing damage to the porch.

only minor damage. The unoccupied parked car was reported owned by Pam Carter, 692 Pearl.

Six people, including three juvenile boys, were booked Friday and early today on charges of violating the controlled substance act (possession of marijuana), according to Benton township police and state police of the Benton Harbor post.

Township police said three boys, ages 15 and 16 of Coloma, were arrested shortly before 9 p.m. when officers investigated an auto parked on Hicks road, near Kerlikowske road. They were remanded to their parents.

Township police said Timothy R. Allerton, 17, of 837 Superior street, Benton Harbor, was arrested about 12:25 a.m. today, during an investigation of an auto being driven in the Fairplain plaza lot.

State police arrested Michael R. Palmer, 20, and Van R. Stockard, 22, both of Jackson, after stopping an auto for speeding on I-94, Benton township, about 8:10 p.m. Friday.

Arresting officers said quantities of suspected marijuana were seized from all vehicles involved.

Benton Harbor police at 4:05 a.m. Friday, investigated a break-in at Benedix Marathon station, 174 West Main street, where the office was reported ransacked and a credit card register machine broken. It was not known if anything was stolen.

St. Joseph police Friday afternoon investigated the theft of two flutes, a clarinet and electronic tuner from the band room of St. Joseph high school. One flute, reported owned by Jill Hemmingsway, 1873 Anthony drive, was reported valued at $150. No estimate was reported on the clarinet, owned by Robyn Grams, 842 Wisconsin, or the other flute and tuner, owned by the school.

St. Joseph police Friday night investigated the theft of a road-side mailbox from the home of Barbara Southland, 713 Royal Crest drive.

Vietnam Approves Yank MIA Mission

By GEORGE GEDDA Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) —

Following a series of conciliatory gestures by the United States, Vietnam has agreed to a U.S. proposal for direct talks on prospects for a full accounting of Americans still listed as missing in the Vietnam war.

The State Department announced Friday that President Carter, fulfilling a campaign pledge, will send a five-member commission to Hanoi in mid-March to seek information on some 1,900 Americans still unaccounted for in Vietnam.

United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock will head the commission, State Department spokesman Frederick Z. Brown said. The other members will be named later.

State Department officials indicated that several goodwill gestures by the United States in recent weeks may have smoothed the way for Vietnam's decision to receive the presidential commission.

These include American consent to a $44 million United Nations aid program to Vietnam; to a Vietnamese application for membership in the International Atomic Energy Agency; and to private U.S. shipments of humanitarian goods to Vietnam, including a recent transfer of $400,000 worth of rice.

There are about 2,550 Americans still unaccounted for in Southeast Asia, all but 800 of whom have been declared dead for legal purposes.

A special House committee reported recently that there is little hope any of the 800 Americans still listed as missing in action are alive.

Brown said the United States also hopes to send a similar mission to Laos, where about 550 Americans are unaccounted for.

for. Another 50 are unaccounted for in Cambodia, but Brown said there has been no official contact with that country because the prospects for cooperation "are not encouraging."

He said the Woodcock commission also would confer with Vietnamese authorities on other bilateral issues with a view toward eventually establishing normal relations.

But the commission's main focus will be on the issue of missing Americans, he said.

"In seeking an accounting, we will make clear that we are concerned about all Americans lost in Southeast Asia," Brown said.

Bridgman's Perfect Season Ruined Watervliet Shocks Bees!

BRIDGMAN — Bridgman couldn't make BEEHIVEERS out of Watervliet here Friday night. Watervliet spoiled Bridgman's bid for the school's first perfect campaign since 1946 by shocking the Bees 51-48.

BRINEY BACK: Walt Briney, who coached Bridgman to state basketball championships in 1945 and 1946, was in attendance at Friday night's Bridgman-Watervliet game. The Portage resident was also once Bridgman's superintendent of schools.

Jon Hinkelman was the hero of the upset triumph over state's No. 2 ranked Class D team in the regular season Red Arrow finale. He literally came out of his sick bed to lead all scorers with 18 points, including perfect nine-for-nine shooting.

"That was the finest ball control game I've seen in years," declared first-year Watervliet coach Gene Bednarowski while praising his Panthers.

Watervliet had been blitzed by the Bees 53-53 on its home court Jan. 14 and was knocked out of the Red Arrow race in a recent loss to Eau Claire.

"I don't know if it was a case of relaxation or confidence," continued Bednarowski on the near flawless play of his Panthers (just eight turnovers) and deadly shooting (55 per cent of their field goals).

Jim Weaver added 10 points to the Watervliet cause as the Panthers finished up at 12-2 in the conference and 17-3 overall — their best mark in this newspaper's records.

Watervliet now goes on to the Class C district tourney at Bangor where it meets the host Vikings Monday.

Bridgman still has its Red Arrow championship, a state ranking and most of all...high hopes for the Class D district next week at Covert. The Bees open tourney play next Wednesday against Michigan Lutheran.

"It's going to help us more than it hurt us," declared Bridgman player Howie Mutz on Friday's loss while leaving the locker room. And Bee coach Doug Hendricks agreed while noting that the winning streak had created "a lot of pressure."

Mutz scored 12 points against Watervliet, and Bob Linke and Wolf Wolf added 10 each as Bridgman posted final regular season records of 13-1 in the Red Arrow and 19-1 overall.

Bridgman never led in the game until the fourth quarter, going to pull it out with a 48-45 lead with less than a minute to play.

Watervliet's Chuck Brock scored to make it 48-47 with 32 seconds left. And after Bridgman missed on a one and one free throw opportunity — the Bees didn't make a free throw the whole game — Hinkelman put the Panthers ahead for good 49-48 with 23 seconds remaining.

Bridgman then turned the ball over twice in the remaining seconds, including a steal by Brock, and Tom Hutchinson added the final two points of the game on free throws after time had expired.

There were ceremonies before the game in honor of Bridgman's great season, with the presentation of a plaque to Hendricks by his players and the introduction of players and coaches with their mothers and wives. Also on hand was Walt Briney, who coached Bridgman's state championship teams in 1945 and 1946.

With all the celebrating, it must have been hard to concentrate on the upcoming game. And Hendricks admitted that "it sure didn't help." Bridgman made just 29 per cent of its first half shots while trailing 14-8 after the first quarter and 24-16 at halftime.

Bednarowski said Watervliet didn't plan to play a ball control type game. "When we got ahead their height kept us from taking inside shots, so we worked for the good shots," he explained.

Bridgman got back into the game in the third quarter by coming out of its zone defense. "I was real pleased with the man-to-man," declared Hendricks. "The man-to-man gave us the opportunity to get back into the ball game. We just had to bring them out of that deliberate stuff."

Bridgman also regained its shooting touch in the third quarter by hitting seven of its first eight shots, but Watervliet's Hinkelman sank four straight shots in the last three minutes to keep the Bees from taking the lead.

"They hit in that third quarter like I couldn't believe," recalled Bednarowski, "but so did Hinkelman hit like I couldn't believe."

Hinkelman went home sick from school Thursday and was lying down in the Watervliet locker room before Friday night's game. He also asked to be taken out of the game at times as a result of his illness.

Watervliet led by only 36-34 entering the fourth quarter, and Bridgman finally took the lead at 40-38 when Wolf scored after rebounding a missed shot.

The Bees got up by four before losing in the last minute. They scored just once on their last six possessions of the ball. Watervliet also went from a zone to a man-to-man defense

BH Makes Up 20-Point Deficit

By JACK WALKDEN

Can you believe it? Benton Harbor took a page out of Ripley's Believe Or Not book Friday night to claim a share of the LMCA title.

Trailing by 20 points late in the third quarter, the Tigers rallied for a stunning 76-74 win over Muskegon before a near-capacity crowd of more than 2,600 fans at the Colfax Gym.

The victory, coupled with Grand Haven's 78-71 win over Muskegon Catholic, gave Benton Harbor a piece of the LMCA title. The Tigers, Muskegon, Muskegon Catholic and Traverse City all finished with league marks of 6-4. Traverse City nipped Muskegon Mona Shores 49-47 Friday.

"I don't believe it," said a stunned but pleased Tiger coach Earl McKee after the game. "We never did play that well. We didn't really run until the last three minutes."

"But it feels awfully good to be league champions. This was our third strike. We could've gotten the job done against Muskegon Catholic and we could've gotten it done against Grand Haven. Tonight we finally got it done."

It was a three-point play by senior guard Steve McNutt with just seven seconds to play which gave the Tigers their first and only lead of the game.

McNutt finished with 19 points, 10 in the decisive final quarter, and won the LMCA scoring title by one point over Grand Haven forward Mark Hoppers. McNutt finished with 189 points in league play to 188 for Hoppers.

"Steve really took charge" in the fourth quarter," McKee said. "When he started going to the basket the whole team came alive."

"He's been trying to pick up the team during the last half of the season. He realized someone had to take control. He took the ball to the boards and shot well. We need someone like him to take charge."

Besides McNutt, Benton Harbor got double figure scoring from four other players. Sophomore guard Ronald Page tallied 16, freshman forward Tyrone Hampton and Derrick Joseph scored 14 and Greg Childs had 10.

Forward Jeff McQuirter tossed in 21 to pace Muskegon, while Tommie Williams added 15, John Brown 14 and Leonard Hairston 13.

It was Hampton's blistering play which proved to be the difference in the final seconds. The Tigers, who trailed at one point 57-37, were still down 74-73 with 25 seconds to play and Muskegon had the ball.

With 20 seconds to go, Hampton stole the ball and passed downcourt to Page. Page's shot fell off the mark and McQuirter rebounded. Hampton then stole the ball again and missed a jump shot.

McQuirter grabbed the carom, but Hampton was again in the right place at the right time and stole the ball. The 6-3 forward passed underneath to McNutt to set up the final heroics.

"Tyrone had all of the skills at the end," McKee said. "He was kinda sluggish until then. He did everything right. He rebounded well, got a couple of baskets, made key steals and

Starks Wraps Up A-O Scoring Crown

FENNVILLE — Fifth-rated Covert tuned up for the tournaments with a 98-66 victory over Fennville in Allegan-Ottawa Conference basketball action here Friday night.

The A-O champs, who host a Class D district next week, put their overall record at 17-3 in the regular season finale while getting double figure efforts from five players.

Jerry Starks wrapped up the conference crown in scoring with a game-high 22 points. He finished with a 21.8 A-O average and now has 18 straight games overall in double digits.

James DeBoe added 17, George Starks 14, Robert Maguard 11 and Steve Hawkins 10 as the Bulldogs posted a perfect 6-0 league mark.

"I was pleased with the ball game," declared Covert coach Rod DeYoung. "I think we are ready for the tournament."

Friday's 32-point victory gave Covert a winning margin for the regular season of 19.3 points per game...the best in southwestern Michigan.

"They just burned the nets, they were tough," declared Fennville coach Larry Morse. "We played hard, but we just couldn't keep up with them. They were just too fast."

"Starks was so hot he hit one from the midcourt line with one second left in the half. He's a good player."

Covert led 25-14 after the first quarter, 51-37 at halftime and 71-49 entering the fourth period.

Fennville, which lost to Covert 88-83 earlier in the season, fell to 1-5 in the league and 7-13 overall while getting 18 points from Kurt Bale and 13 from Terry Morse.

Covert checked for 44 field goals, while Fennville meshed 27 of 80 (34 per cent). At the free throw lines, the Blackhawks swished 12 of 25 (48 per cent) and Bulldogs sank 10 of 16 (63 per cent).

Respective charts had Fennville with 53 rebounds, including 12 by Kurt Bale, and Covert with 45, including 10 by DeBoe.

The loss was the third in a row for Fennville and the Blackhawks' fifth straight setback at the hands of Covert.

Fennville did win Friday night's junior varsity preliminary 58-57, with Mike McFarland contributing 12 points. The little Blackhawks ended up at 12-8.

Wright Wins Title In Double Overtime SJ Win

HOLLAND — St. Joseph's Dale Wright won the Big Seven scoring title as he poured in 25 points in the Bears' 63-56 double overtime victory over Holland here Friday night.

The Bear senior ended up with 269 points in the 12 league games, an average of 22.4 per game.

Jazz Sign Mo Howard

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The New Orleans Jazz have signed guard Mo Howard, a free agent, to a National Basketball Association contract.

While Wright was winning the scoring title, guard Paul Knuth was having his best night of the year, scoring-wise, netting 16 points.

But the key for St. Joseph was its ability to hit the free throws. The Bears canned 15 of 20 charity tosses in the game, including five of six in the second overtime.

Frank Petersen led the Dutch, who wind up in last place in the Big 7, even at 1-11 and 3-16 overall, with 14 points. Chuck Bobeldyk added 12.

The Bears, who end the regular season at 7-13 and 3-9 in the league, trailed from the outset until Keene Taylor hit a bucket with 7:53 left in the game to give them a 35-34 lead.

The lead seasawed back and forth until Wright hit a shot with 1:40 remaining in regulation which gave St. Joe a 50-48 lead. But Holland's Mike Van-Tongeren answered that with a tip-in with 1:02 left to tie it up at 50-apiece.

St. Joe Coach George Gaunder then called timeout to try and set up a last shot.

"They were using a 1-3-1 half court trapping defense so we went to a four-corner," Gaunder said. "We ended up with about a 23-footer that missed."

Taylor put the Bears ahead with 2:13 left in the first overtime but Dan Molenaar scored on a jumper for Holland with 1:21 to tie it up. St. Joe then tried again for the last shot, but a jumper fell off the rim at the buzzer.

Wright took over in the second extra period. He scored two quick buckets, and after Petersen hit a shot, made another. Herb Ross added a pair of free throws with 40 seconds left to put the game out of reach for the Dutch.

"Knuth played probably his best game of the season," Gaunder stated. "And (Jerry) Beal was particularly aggressive on defense and Wright came through in the fourth quarter and the overtime."

St. Joseph outrebounded the taller Dutch 40-35 and that fact pleased the Bears' head mentor.

"We did a good job of preventing them from getting second shots," he beamed. "In fact, I don't recall Holland getting a second shot or a tip in the game."

"The defensive performance and the rebounding are the areas which I am pleased with."

Wright led the squad with 15 rebounds and Knuth added 11. Bobeldyk snarled 10 for Holland.

St. Joseph canned 24 of 55 floor shots (43.6) while Holland made 23 of 59 (39.0). While the Bears were making 15-20 from the charity stripes, Holland hit 10 of 13 tries.

The Bears also committed 14 turnovers.

Holland won the junior varsity game 66-62 with Jeff Curry netting 22 and Jerry Jones 21 for the Bears.

Campbell Helps Lancers Continue Hex Over Eddies

Kevin Campbell helped Lakeshore continue its unbeaten hex over Edwardsburg Friday night.

Campbell, who took game scoring honors with 16 points, hit a free throw with five seconds left to give the Lancers a 56-57 squeaker over the Eddies in a Blossomland game in the Lancer Gym.

Lakeshore now has beaten the Eddies 27 straight times without a loss.

The win, the Lancers' fifth in six February games, left Lakeshore with a 9-5 Blossomland record and 10-10 overall mark. The Eddies slip to a final record of 3-11 and 6-11 overall.

"Edwardsburg played a very good game. I don't know what they have to do to beat us," stated Lakeshore coach Lloyd MacTavish. "In both games we came from behind to win and in both cases we both had the same number of field goals."

The Lancers led 16-13 after the first quarter but the Eddies took a 23-31 edge at the half. Lakeshore came back to lead 45-42 after three quarters but the Eddies then climbed back on top by five points midway through the last quarter.

Tom Jager, who hit 13 points while plagued with foul trouble, gave the Lancers a 57-55 lead with a minute to play but Dennis Mock tied the game with a bucket with 20 seconds remaining.

Odell Brister missed both ends of two free throw chances with eight seconds to go but Campbell secured the rebound and was fouled with five seconds left. He made the first of the one-and-one but missed the second attempt.

Campbell then grabbed his own rebound and a jump ball was called with three seconds left on the clock. The Eddies won the tip but a desperation shot the buzzer was way off the mark.

"Campbell was the hero tonight. He played a real good game," declared MacTavish. "But Scott Lee and Brister really did the job off the bench. Lee got 10 rebounds and Brister 10 points. They keyed us in that last quarter."

Lee and Brister both sank two buckets in the last quarter.

The Eddies, who have lost four in a row, got 13 points from Mark Kwiatkowski, 12 from Scott Hammon, 11 from Steve Barilla and 10 from Dan Correll.

Jager added 12 rebounds to the Lakeshore cause.

Both team had 25 field goals but the Lancers meshed eight of 20 from the lines and the Eddies seven of 15.

The Lakeshore junior varsity closed out a banner year with a 34-47 win. The Lancers finished at 14-0 in the league and 17-3 overall. Joe Shafer swished 14 points and Scott Andrews and Mike Pfeil 13 each. T. Herremans had 17 for the Eddies.

Dave Goodwin paced the Lancers with a 13.5 scoring average for the season with Shafer ending at 12.3.

Rams, Colts Share Wolverine Crown

S. Haven Upended At Home

By JERRY DYKSTRA

SOUTH HAVEN — The Comstock Colts muscled their way into a share of the Wolverine conference basketball crown here Friday night.

"The Colts used their superior height and some clutch scoring from two unexpected sources in the last quarter to upend South Haven 70-61 before a packed gym."

Both clubs finished with 12-4 league marks and 14-6 overall records. The title was Comstock's first since the 1969-70 season.

For South Haven, the loss broke a string of seven straight Wolverine wins (the last loss coming at the hands of Comstock) and also was the Rams' first regular season setback at home in two years.

"Rebounding (63-45 Colts) and lack of turnovers (17)...that's what won it for us," shouted Comstock coach Jim VanSwinden in the noisy Colt locker room. "All the kids just hustled real hard out there all night."

Classy 6-4½ forward John Lierman led the Colts with 21 points but it was the play of Jim Ketelaar and Rick VanderVeen which proved the difference. The duo combined to sink 16 of the Colts' 21 last-period points with Ketelaar ending with 19 for the night and VanderVeen 13.

The 13th deadlock of the game came with four minutes to play. But then the terrific twosome took over, natching 11 of the last 13 Colt points as Comstock outscored the Rams 13-4 over the last four minutes.

VanderVeen, a 6-4 forward, hit two straight 17-footers to put the Colts ahead for good and then Ketelaar put the game on ice with four straight free throws in the last minute. Eleven of the 21 Colt points in the last quarter were on foul shots.

"This VanderVeen couldn't hit a side of a barn in the first game...he didn't get any points and he couldn't hit a side of a barn early in the game," states Rams coach M.H. White, who was denied his 150th coaching victory. "But then he hit those two baskets...those two buckets put the pressure on us and took the pressure off them."

"And I think they outplayed us at the end. We missed some key free throws and they made them when we were forced to foul."

White also thought rebounding played a crucial role. "Like in the first game the boards held the key. We just couldn't get any offensive rebounds...we only had three offensive rebounds at the half."

"We also had a very poor shooting percentage from the field (33 per cent). We weren't organized on offense. We couldn't get the ball to our better shooters. And when they did get the ball they were out of position for good shots."

William Gamble took game-high scoring honors with 22 points, nine coming in the first quarter. Mike Grimes chipped in with 15.

The teams played an even terms the first half with a 17-17 deadlock after the opening quarter and 20-20 at the half. Comstock led 49-45 after three quarters.

The Rams got off to a hot start at half, hitting seven of 12 shots in the first period. But over the last three periods South Haven could only manage 14 of 31 for 27 per cent. The Rams dumped in 19 of 24 foul tosses.

Comstock, which made a neat comeback from a 4-17 mark of last season, was 24 of 68 for 35 per cent and 22 of 35 from the charity lines.

Lierman, a junior who carried a 23.8 overall average into the game, ended as the Wolverine scoring champ with a final 25.8 average. Gamble also kept alive his double figure string, now 29 straight games.

Both South Haven, which made 18 turnovers, and Comstock can now turn their attention to the state tournaments. The Rams take on River Valley at Valley Monday night in Class B district action while the Colts meet the Allegan-Plainwell winner next Wednesday in the Gulf Lake district.

"River Valley has some good quickness and they have a big kid in the center (Werner Maak) who we hope our forwards can off set," added White. "We'll really have to play a good game to beat them."

The South Haven jayvees ended with a successful 16-4 overall mark by taking a 78-54 decision in the preliminary game. Jerry Perry pumped in 25 and Leon Cunningham 21 for the winners.

our end of the court."

Matt Kozel added 14 points for the Gaels, 5-9 in the league and 3-15 overall.

Tony Wallace was the only Laker to gain double figures, netting 10 points. Catholic is now 1-13 in the Red Arrow and 2-18 overall, its worst regular season in history.

Gallen hit on an amazing 29 of 51 field goal attempts (56.9 per cent) while the Lakers managed to make 25 of 68 tries (37.0). The Gaels converted on 32 of 38 free throw attempts (84.2) while Catholic missed 13 of 23 (56.5).

The hosts jumped off to a 6-0 lead and were never headed. Kozel had eight of his points in the first quarter and Kuntz scored six as Gaels led 20-8 after the first eight minutes.

They increased that to 44-23 at the half and were ahead 68-42 after three quarters.

Catholic did win the junior varsity game 30-13 with Mark Kasser netting 14 for the Lakers. Chris Pence scored 10 for Galien.

Kuntz was just a terror inside as he hit 10 of 13 field goal attempts. "He took advantage of having a few inches on (Clancy) Rose and a little bit more experience."

"At times, he's done it all year, but we haven't been able to get a consistent game out of him. But tonight he did it."

Kuntz's performance overshadowed Brad Marshall's play. The 5-11 guard scored 20 points, 10 in the second quarter, while hitting eight of 12 field goal attempts.

"Most of his were coming on drive shots," Heckathorn reported. "He would get pressure on him outfront, but would penetrate in for the layup."

Draft Reduced; Rozelle Rule Modified

NFL Agreement Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Football League will have a college draft, on or around May 1 and reduced from 17 rounds to 12.

The controversial Rozelle rule has been modified to make draft choices the only compensation for signing a free agent who played out his option, but Commissioner Pete Rozelle no longer has anything to do with it.

And some 43 players who played out their options last season and were to become free agents May 1 probably will be free to shop around for a new club sometime next week.

Those were the major developments Friday as labor peace came to the NFL—finally. After three often-bitter years without a contract—they included two strikes and three major lawsuits against the owners—the NFL Players Association and the 28 club owners approved a new five-year basic agreement which the NFL Management Council says will cost the owners $107 million.

The new collective bargaining agreement must still be ratified by the 785 members of the union, but little opposition is expected now that the player representatives have approved it.

The agreement also must be approved by U.S. District Court Judge Earl Lawson, who has before him two class action suits by the players. The pact would settle those suits for some $16 million.

Besides modifying the draft and free agent compensation, the new contract, which replaces one that expired Jan. 31, 1974, also contains a no-strike, no-lockout clause, establishes a 43-man player roster plus two more on the inactive list, reduces pension vesting to four years and provides for increases in minimum salaries and pre-season and post-season pay along with improved insurance and medical and dental benefits. It also continues the pension plan — including the non-contract years of 1975-86 — with the owners contributing more than $55 million.

The college draft, which is now guaranteed at least through 1986, will be held on or about May 1 each year, beginning this spring, but will be reduced from 17 rounds to 12.

In addition, the expiration date of all player contracts is changed from May 1 to Feb. 1. Free agents must reach agreement with another club by April 15 and their old club then has the right to keep the player by matching his new offer.

If a free agent signs with a new team, his old club will be compensated by predetermined choices in that year's college draft ranging from a third-round choice to two consecutive first-round choices on a sliding scale depending on the free agent's salary terms with his new club.

Under terms of the new college draft, a drafted player must be offered a contract, or series of contracts, meeting minimum figures ranging from $20,000 for one year to a total of $200,000 for four years on or before June 15 in the year he is drafted.

If he does not sign, he is eligible to be drafted again the next year. If he is drafted again and still does not sign, he becomes a free agent after the ensuing season and may sign with any NFL club.

Kingman, Lyle, Tiant All Among Baseball Holdouts

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

The umpires aren't the only people missing from spring training these days.

Power hitter Dave Kingman hasn't appeared at the training site of the New York Mets, reliever Sparky Lyle hasn't found the New York Yankees' training base yet, and Luis Tiant may not bother showing up while the Boston Red Sox prepare for the 1977 baseball season.

Negotiations aren't exactly speeding along, either.

Mets General Manager Joe McDonald said he hasn't even heard from Kingman since Feb.

1 when the outfielder made a reported demand for a multi-million dollar contract. He has been listed as an "unofficial absentee," with that designation to change to "official absentee" if Kingman doesn't show by March 1.

Lyle also isn't required in camp until March 1, nor are the other 14 unsigned Yankees.

They don't have contracts, but Tiant does, and his insistence on an extension of his pact through 1979 provides a stickier problem. The 36-year-old right-hander who smokes cigars in the shower is "exceedingly disturbed" over the Red Sox' apparent unwillingness to give him what he wants. He refuses to go to camp.

The Red Sox say Tiant is bound by the terms of the reported $180,000 per year contract which runs through the coming season. Tiant's counterclaim is that Tom Yawkey, Boston's late owner, promised him that he would be given a no-cut, no-trade, multi-year contract similar to those offered a number of other Red Sox players in an attempt to keep them from becoming free agents.

Last season, Tiant pitched 279 innings, won 21 of 33 decisions and compiled an earned run average of 3.06. But he reported to the team last year only after the American League club extended his contract at a salary increase; he had threatened to sit out the season.

The continuing non-agreement between Oakland A's owner Charles O. Finley and Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn came as far less of a surprise Friday, Kuhn, after refusing to approve Finley's sale of reliever Paul Lindblad to the Texas Rangers for $400,000, has scheduled a hearing on the matter.

Finley reacted by saying he wouldn't appear at the hearing Wednesday unless Kuhn furnished a statement of all facts which support his contention that Finley is trying to "liquidate the club's established major league talent," a detailed statement of all facts supporting Kuhn's conclusion that the sale is not in baseball's best interests, and a list of names of all people with whom Kuhn has spoken with regard to the sale.

While the men in the double knit uniforms are reporting to baseball's spring training camps on time for a change, the men in blue are among the missing.

However, that all could change at an important meeting between the Major League Umpires' Association and representatives of the American and National Leagues in Tampa next Tuesday.

"I'm optimistic," American League umpire Marty Springstead, a member of the union's negotiating committee, said Friday. "I'm going down there thinking this will be settled. I think if we can get over a couple of hurdles we can make it."

Pistol Pete Scores 68 In Jazz Win Fight Mars Pistons' Victory

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

When a player scores 68 points in a game, who notices defense? Elgin Baylor did.

"Not only did Pete Maravich score all those points but he also did a great defensive job on Walt Frazier," said Baylor.

Maravich was Mr. Everything for New Orleans Friday night — inside, outside, all around the court — as the Jazz defeated the New York Knicks 124-107.

"Pete did everything possible and I'm proud as can be of him," said Baylor, the New Orleans coach. "What more can I say after a performance like that?"

Maravich's mountainous total was the seventh highest in NBA history.

In other NBA action, the Denver Nuggets defeated the Kansas City Kings 130-128, the Golden State Warriors trimmed the Buffalo Braves 104-97, the Detroit Pistons stopped the New York Nets 112-106, the Chicago Bulls whipped the Atlanta Hawks 96-87, the Los Angeles Lakers nipped the Philadelphia 76ers 104-102, the Houston Rockets outscored the Portland Trail Blazers 123-106 and the Boston Celtics turned back the Seattle SuperSonics 102-92.

Howard Porter scored 25 points Friday night in leading Detroit to a 112-106 triumph over the New York Nets. It was a seesaw National Basketball Association game marred by elbowing, one thrown punch and the ejection of the Pistons' Marvin Barnes.

Barnes was involved in a fracas with New York's Mike Bantom with 10:27 remaining in the second period. He was ejected from the game by referee Bob Rakek for a flagrant elbowing foul.

Barnes apparently threw an elbow at Bantom as the New York forward brought the ball up court. Bantom retaliated with a swing which apparently caused a two-stitch cut over Barnes' left eye, but Bantom was allowed to stay in the game.

Barnes left the court angrily kicking chairs and ripping off his jersey.

Pistons Coach Herb Brown announced the game was being played under protest because Bantom was not ejected. Brown was expected to rescind the protest because Detroit won.

Barnes and Detroit center Leon Douglas were taken to Hensslewood General Hospital for examination. Barnes for his cut and Douglas for X rays of a possible fracture of the right ankle.

The Pistons also got 23 points from Ralph Simpson and 22 from M.L. Carr in the contest which saw 14 ties and 17 lead changes. High scorers for the Nets were Bubbles Hawkins with 2 points and Bantom with 24.

Bantom stayed in the game and took two free throws for the flagrant elbowing foul and made one of them. Barnes missed his free throw awarded for Bantom's punching foul.

Dan Issel, who scored 21 points in the first quarter, connected on two free throws with four seconds left to give Denver a close victory over Kansas City. Issel led all scorers with 40 points.

Phil Smith scored 37 points to lead Golden State over Buffalo. Scott May poured in 22 points and Artis Gilmore and Wilbur Holland each added 18, leading a fourth-quarter drive that enabled Chicago to hold off Atlanta.

Don Chaney tipped in a missed shot by Kareem Abdul-Jabbar with one second to play as Los Angeles defeated Philadelphia. The 76ers' 1-2 punch of George McGinnis and Julius Erving accounted for 52 points — 30 by McGinnis and 22 by Erving.

Mike Newlin scored 20 points in pace Houston's rout of Portland.

Wings Make First Move Toward Returning Howes

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings took a big step toward returning their all-time great Gordie Howe to Detroit Friday when they acquired National Hockey League rights to one of Howe's sons, 23-year-old defenseman Marty Howe.

Detroit General Manager Alex Delvecchio said it was the first step toward returning Gordie, his wife, Colleen, and another son, Mark, to the team where hockey great Gordie Howe scored 786 career goals. Marty Howe is a 6-foot-1, 185-pound left-hander. The Wings acquired the rights to Howe from the Montreal Canadiens, the team that picked him in the third round of the 1974 amateur draft.

"I am proceeding immediately to explore the return of the Howe family to Detroit and the Detroit organization," Delvecchio said. "We will also discuss the future employment with the Red Wings of Gordie, Colleen and Marty. And I will endeavor to acquire the NHL rights in Mark from the Boston Bruins."

Contracts of Gordie, Marty, and Mark, a 22-year-old left wing, expire with the Houston Aeros of the World Hockey Association at the end of the season.

Marty Howe has compiled 43 goals and 77 assists, with 449 minutes in the penalty box. Twelve goals and 13 assists came this season.

Gordie was in Phoenix with the Houston Aeros and could not be reached for comment. But his wife, Colleen, was in Southfield, Mich., on business for Howe, Mitch, and she admitted the family is considering returning to Detroit.

"Gordie and I have already had thoughts about coming back — with the Wings or otherwise," she said. "Our four years in Houston are up and it was wonderful. We are grateful for them. For Gordie to play with his sons was one of the greatest things... But now he's thinking about retirement days, in or out of hockey, and Detroit seems the natural place for us."

The Wings have already talked to the Howes' Detroit legal counsel (Kerr Wattles & Russell) for an appointment. Obtaining rights to Mark, a WHA All-Star, may be difficult. The Boston Bruins hold the NHL rights to Mark and their general manager, Harry Sinden, said his club would not deal those rights.

"Do you think the Pope would move out of the Vatican? Sinden said. "We drafted Mark Howe with the specific purpose of signing him three years ago."

Gordie Howe will be 49 years old next month. He retired once, but then went to the Aeros.

Cass Tech Wins Detroit Crown

DETROIT (AP) — Cass High School scored a stunning 54-45 triumph over Dearborn Divine Child in the City Championship basketball game Friday night.

Cass' 6-foot-8 center Alex Reynolds finished with 11 points, although he sat out the entire third quarter with three fouls. He came back to help feed off a Divine Child rally.

Cass is 16-4 after winning its last 11 games.

Senior forward Dave Blazo led the Divine Child offense. He had 11 points.

Coach Jim Spivey's team finished second in its division to just barely qualify for the Public School League playoffs.

Dons Capture 28th Straight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "When you get up, get loose, and your starting five hits a few shots, things do go easy," said a grinning Coach Bob Gaillard.

He had just completed a relaxing evening, watching his No. 1-ranked San Francisco quintet demolish and demoralize Seattle University 112-77 for its 28th straight victory in a thus-far perfect season.

The Dons played very well Friday night, paced by 28 points from center Bill Cartwright, who hit 13 of 15 field goal attempts, and 20 each from guard Chubby Cox and forward Marlin Redmond.

Gaillard said the Dons' pregame strategy was to "work on different phases of our game and try to get everybody to give the ball up to someone who might have a better shot."

Cox took the suggestion to heart. Along with hitting eight of 12 shots, he had 15 assists, a school record, giving him 154 for the season, also a school record. The team had 44 assists for the night.

The win was all the more impressive because USF played without starter James Hardy, averaging 15 points a game, who is nursing a bad cold that forced him out of practice for two days.

The game was never close with USF sprinting to a 22-10 lead midway through the first half and extending it to 56-31 at halftime, sinking 65 per cent of its shots in the opening 20 minutes.

Seattle, now 11-13, matched baskets with the Dons for the first five minutes of the second half. But USF ran off streaks of eight and 16 points and had a 100-58 lead with five minutes left in the game.

The West Coast Athletic Conference champions, assured of a berth in the NCAA playoffs, finish league play tonight against Portland, then wrap up the regular season next week at Notre Dame.

In other games, No. 10 Louisville defeated Georgia Tech 91-80 as Wesley Cox scored 31 points; No. 20 Utah nipped Texas-El Paso 66-65 as Greg Dean hit two free throws with 12 seconds remaining; Yale trimmed Dartmouth 68-56 behind Dick Shea's 16 points; Steve Connor's 23 points led Boise State to a 100-84 victory over Gonzaga; Michael Ray Richardson scored 25 points, leading Montana to a 77-62 decision over Weber State; Portland turned back Santa Clara 78-73 as Rick Raitio and Leonard Williams each scored 21 points, and Harvard beat Brown 79-59 behind Steve Irion's 22 points.

Everett, Eastern Matched In District Monday

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
The 60th Michigan high school basketball tournament couldn't kick off with a much better matchup than Monday night's District Five-Class A opener at Lansing Everett.

Eastern, ranked seventh, tangles with No. 1-ranked Lansing Everett.

The intra-city rivals split two regular-season games, with Eastern pulling an upset in the second game before a sellout crowd of 10,000 at Michigan State University's Jenison Field House.

They'd never be able to shoe-horn all the spectators into the Eastern gym who want to go to Monday's rematch.

More than 700 schools from throughout Michigan will be competing in 121 district tournaments, which run through next Saturday.

Survivors of the first week of competition in the single-elimination tourney, sponsored by the Michigan High School Athletic Association, advance to 28 regional sites. Regionals run March 8 through March 12.

Eight teams in each class will advance to the quarterfinals, March 17, at 16 locations. The winners move to the semifinals two days later at Jenison Field House.

The championships will be Saturday, March 26, at the University of Michigan's Crisler Arena in Ann Arbor.

Everett, with All-State Earvin Johnson — one of the most highly-touted Michigan prep players in the last decade — has to be considered one of the favorites to take the Class A title. Should Eastern win Monday, it would have to be considered a favorite.

Two other powerhouses, No. 2 Pontiac Central and No. 3 Pontiac Northern, could battle for their district title Friday. Central must set by Waterford Mont on Monday and Clarkson on Wednesday, while Northern needs only to beat Waterford on Tuesday.

Fourth-ranked Detroit Eastern Central, Detroit's state champion, and ninth-ranked Detroit Cass are in the same district and could meet Friday for the championship.

Class B leader Dearborn Divine Child is in the same district with perennial power River Rouge. They could tangle next Saturday.

Catch Eaton Green's 1975-76 Rouge team lost to Flint Beecher in the state finals last March. Beecher is now ranked second, with Pontiac, while Rouge is rated sixth.

Green's tournament record in 32 years at Rouge is 100-2. He's won 12 state titles and been runner-up five times. He has also captured 24 district crowns and 18 regionals.

Among the favorites in the Class C tourney should be top-ranked Detroit St. Andrew runner-up, Unionville-Schwanitz, eighth-ranked Kalamazoo Hackitt and 10th-ranked Detroit

Duo Carries Parchment To Victory Over Bangor

PARCHMENT — Forwards Steve McFadden and Terry Brannum combined for 36 points while leading Parchment to a 61-54 basketball victory over Bangor here Friday night.

Parchment won the game in the last quarter. Bangor led 17-12 after the first quarter and 25-22 at halftime, and the game was knotted at 40-40 after three periods.

"The guy that really hurt us was Brannum," declared Bangor coach Norm Johnson. "He got five field goals the second half...all on jump shots about 18 feet out."

Bangor trailed by two to four points most of the last quarter, with Parchment building its final margin in the free throw line in the final seconds as the Vikings fouled to catch up.

Dave Gregory scored in double figures for the 10th straight game while leading Bangor scorers with 18 points. Ricky Ross added 12 as the Vikings finished their regular season at 6-8 in the league and 10-10 overall. Parchment, which lost to Bangor 65-57 earlier in the season, ended up at 9-5 in the KVA and 9-11 on the regular season.

Bangor built its early lead with Gregory penetrating the middle. He had five field goals in the first quarter and two more the second, but Johnson said Parchment "tightened up the middle to keep Gregory outside" in the second half.

Bangor ended up making 21 of 51 field goals (41 per cent) and 12 of 20 free throws. Parchment went 23 of 60 from the floor (38 per cent) and 15 of 25 at the lines.

Bangor had a 40 to 30 rebounding edge, including nine by Ross. The turnover department showed Bangor with 17 and Parchment 13.

In preliminary games, Parchment won the Jaycee contest 63-51 and the freshman game 66-43.

Bangor will now host a Class C district tourney next week. The Vikings open Monday against Watervliet.

just hustled."

The win broke a three-game Tiger losing streak and helped Benton Harbor avoid its first losing regular season since 1952. The Tigers take a 10-10 mark into next week's Class A district at Niles.

"We really needed this one," McKee said. "It couldn't have come at a more sweeter time. This game was won because we refused to give up. The kids just hustled all the way."

"When things started to turn our way, the kids really turned on. They were determined to win this game and that's about the only thing we had going for us."

"We're not that far from being a decent team. It's just a matter of believing in ourselves and helping each other out."

Muskegon hit its first six shots and led 12-1 after little more than two minutes had elapsed. The Big Reds roared out to a 57-37 edge with less than four minutes to go in the third period.

Muskegon still held a 67-54 margin with 5:32 to play before the roof fell in. From there on the Big Reds missed four one-and-ones. Benton Harbor finally

Only 23 seconds later, McQuirter gave Muskegon the lead with a three-point play. But two free throws by Hampton and one by McNutt set up the hectic final seconds.

Benton Harbor, which hit just three of 18 in the first quarter, finished with 30 of 79 for 38 per cent. Muskegon found the range on 33 of 71 for 46 per cent. But the Big Reds hit just three of 13 in the final period.

The game was actually won at the foul line where the Tigers netted 16 of 26 (62 per cent) to Muskegon's eight of 22 (36 per cent).

Muskegon held a commanding 37-45 rebounding edge with McQuirter pulling down 22 caroms for the Big Reds. Joseph topped the Tigers with 13 and Hampton grabbed 10.

Benton Harbor turned the ball over just 17 times, while helping to force 28 from Muskegon.

The Tiger junior varsity finished with an 18-2 record by winning the preliminary game 72-61. James Dortch tossed in 25 points. Andrew Hurst added 16 and Michael Gillespie and Ray Jones tallied 10 apiece.

Teenagers In Custody

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—Two 17-year-old men were in custody after holding three persons hostage during an attempted robbery today, police said. One of the gunmen was in temporarily serious condition with multiple gunshot wounds after being shot by police as he tried to escape, officers said. The other man surrendered to police. The hostages were not harmed, authorities said.

Feud Over Rescue

DETROIT (AP)—An 18-year-old motorist was rescued from his flaming car after a freeway accident Thursday, and a dispute arose over who lifted the burning car off the victim. State police said a group of motorists lifted the car off Kenneth Lester of Detroit, who was screaming with pain. But firemen claimed they performed the rescue. The fire chief said he planned to decorate four of the firefighters. Lester, apparently suffering from shock, was unable to provide details of his rescue. He said he recalled nothing of his experience.

PAW PAW — A Decatur man more than $5,000 behind in child support payments, was given a choice by the Van Buren circuit court judge Friday of paying $200 towards the arrearage or spending the next 30 days in county jail.

John Arthur Bohner, route 1, Decatur, owes $5,211 for three children on ADC, according to Robert Golladay of the Van Buren county friend of the court office. Golladay said Bohner could be released by paying $200 towards the arrearage.

A Flint man was ordered to pay $30 a week support for three children on ADC. No wage assignment was made on $8,113 arrearage for Melvin Armstrong, Flint. Golladay said Armstrong had only recently begun working.

Buchanan Teachers Ratify Revision

BUCHANAN — Teachers here have given approval to proposed revisions in the third year of their three-year master contract with the Buchanan school system.

Brian Steinke, president of the 117-member Buchanan Education association, said that in a meeting Thursday

The proposed revision includes teacher pay increases but neither Steinke or William Moon, school board president, would discuss specifics.

Moon said yesterday that the board may meet in special session before its scheduled March 21 meeting to consider approval of the proposed contract revisions.

Pay and one other item were eligible for renegotiation in this the last year of the three-year master contract. Negotiations on the revisions have been under way since late last summer, and the teachers' union has rejected at least one pay increase proposed by the board.

Without Winston mean taste noth

Today, a lot of cigarettes offer lower 'tar' and nicotine numbers. Many will even offer some savings. But, either way, if they don't come with taste, they're not worth anything. $1.00 off a carton of Winston Lights is something you can appreciate — real savings on real taste. Winston Lights are for real.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

ASK THEM YOURSELF

Send the question, on a postcard, to "Ask," Family Weekly, 641 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. We'll pay $5 to published questions. Sorry, we can't answer others.

FOR OLIVIA NEWTON-JOHN, singer

I'm so envious of your beautiful complexion because I've got a lousy one. What do you do to get it like that?—P.B., Yuma, Ariz.

● The trick is that I ignore it. I only use makeup when I'm performing. Perhaps it's because I'm always out in the fresh air—I think that's the best beautifier of all. Also, I keep away from junk foods. I prefer natural things, such as fruits and vegetables.

FOR LAWRENCE O'BRIEN,

Commissioner, National Basketball Association

How long do you think it will take for the four former A.B.A. teams to adjust to the N.B.A.?—Dennis Gonzalez, Pueblo, Colo.

● They have already adjusted. These expansion teams are engaged in tight races in all four N.B.A. divisions. Remember some players on these teams played against the N.B.A. players in college, and others were N.B.A. members of the past. Also, there were only minor differences in the rules between the two leagues.

FOR DAVID EISENHOWER, grandson of the late President

Can you pinpoint the moment you realized your grandfather was an illustrious man?—A.S., Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

● I remember it well. I was born after the war, in 1948, but in 1962 I went on a trip with my grandfather to Europe. Our schedule took us to Germany where 17 years earlier he had been commander of a conquering army. One night in Cologne, I sat by a window and watched some 40,000 people chant themselves hoarse for hours begging him to appear. It was tumultuous.

FOR BERN NADETTE STANIS,

star of TV's Good Times

How friendly are you with your costar, Jimmie Walker?—E.H., Midland, Texas

● We're good friends, but we don't get time to see each other off the set because he's busy when he finishes work, and so am I. We started off by being very close. When I got married, Jimmie got distant and hardly spoke to me. He no longer confided in me and spoke about his girl friends. Guess he felt funny pouring out his heart to a married lady. Now we're close again.

FOR TOTIE FIELDS, comedienne

I saw you on a TV talk show looking marvelously thin, and I'm wondering what you did with all your "fat" clothes?—L.F., Flint, Mich.

● Fat or thin, I'm a clothes horse. Each outfit is very special to me, like a member of my family (all bought with tender, loving care). Now that I can't wear them any more, I won't turn my wardrobe out to pasture. I'm giving it away to those who will love everything as much as I did. I want the owner to feel she's gained a treasure, not a castoff.

FOR ROBERT SHAW, star of The Deep

Which movie stars did you adore when you were growing up?—M.C., Savannah, Ga.

● Rita Hayworth, Robert Taylor and Tyrone Power. I never met any of them. Rita was the first woman I really fell hopelessly in love with. When she married Aly Khan, I cried. To this day, I can still see the way she looked when she danced in all her films, especially Gilda. Taylor and Power were the best-looking men in the world—and the best actors. My idea of heaven as a youngster was seeing two movies a day. My favorites were Westerns.

FOR JOHN BERADINO,

Dr. Steve Hardy on ABC-TV's General Hospital

Why are actors and actresses on daytime TV shows so popular?—Mrs. Lela Owens, Hobart, Ind.

● Daytime personalities have always been popular, but now they're even more so because there have been so many magazine articles about them. Basically, however, I think their popularity stems from their ability to perform day after day. People feel a kinship with them. The same cannot be said of nighttime stars or motion picture stars. They seem to be in another world.

FOR MARY BROOK, Director of The Mint

What will the Bicentennial quarter be worth at the Tri-centennial?—Bonnie Greer, Athens, Ohio

● The Mint never puts a value on coins, but it should be very valuable in 2076. The Bicentennial quarter, which is in our coin sets, is the only 40-percent silver quarter ever minted by us. Since only eight million were made in 1975 and 1976 for the sets, it will be very, very precious in 100 years.

FOR THE "ASK THEM YOURSELF" EDITOR

I'm curious about Ingmar Bergman. From his movies he seems a real weirdo. Is he?—R.B., York, Pa.

● The Swedish director (right), in his late 50's, is more fun than many of his pictures make him out to be. He's well organized, knows what he wants to do and how to do it. All this from fellow Swede Max Von Sydow (star of Voyage of the Damned), who has starred in many of his movies. Max adds: "Before we shoot a difficult scene, he takes everyone's minds off it by talking of other things. He's a perfectionist, predictable and generous."

FOR FANNIE FLAGG, TV personality

Why did you want to be an actress?—M.G., Boise, Idaho

● I didn't. I wanted to be a psychiatrist (and to tell you the truth, I still do), but that dream died an immediate death when I failed my algebra tests. You must have all kinds of math know-how in order to be a psychiatrist—read charts and that kind of stuff. I was so bad at it that I knew I didn't have the slightest chance of making it, so I chose a profession where I wouldn't have to make calculations—acting.

PRO AND CON

Should Capital Punishment Be Mandatory For First-Degree Murder?

PRO Sen. John Tower of Texas

Yes. I am a strong advocate of swift and certain punishment as a deterrent to all violent crime. The liberalization of our criminal justice system to protect the rights of the criminal over the rights of society has contributed in large measure to the meteoric rise of violent crime. It is, therefore, essential that we impose strict and swift punishment for the most violent and heinous crimes, and to that end, I would support the death penalty for first-degree murder.

CON Aryeh Neier, Exec. Dir. American Civil Liberties Union

No. An argument for capital punishment can reasonably be made if: 1) it prevents violent crime, 2) it does not lead to more violence, and 3) the state is infallible. Even then, I would argue that nothing justifies legal cruelty. The state should not be barbarous. But since the evidence shows the death penalty does much to cause violence and nothing to deter it, and since the state is all too fallible, I doubt there is even a rational argument in favor of capital punishment.

Suddenly from Datsun: A sporty car with everything but a sports car price.

Exit dull, sluggish economy cars.
Enter Datsun's spicy 200-SX. Sweet-handling. Tasty appointments. And no bitter price to swallow.

Enjoy.

Fun and frugal 5-speed.

Sporty 5-speed transmission works like overdrive. So it not only zips around traffic, it saves wear and tear on the engine. About the engine: it's the 2-liter single overhead cam type. The type sports cars are made of. All of which makes the 200-
SX anything but dull.

Extras, yes. Extra cost, no.

- AM-FM multiplex stereo radio
- Steel belted radial tires
- Tachometer
- Fully reclining bucket seats
- Cut-pile carpeting
- Electric rear window defogger
- Tinted glass
- Electric clock
- Sporty 5-speed gearbox
- Power-assist front disc brakes

All for under $4500. (Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price not including destination charges, taxes, license or title fees and optional tape stripe and mag-type wheel cover package.)

Tough sport.

Solid, all-steel unibody is but one example of how the Datsun 200-SX is put together to stay together. Fact is, when we made this fun little car, we made sure of one thing.

The fun would last.

Suddenly it's going to dawn on you.

FAMILY WEEKLY'S CELEBRITY POLL

VOTING TIME: PICK YOUR FAVORITES!

Here it is! Our sixth annual Celebrity Poll. Choose your favorite movie and television personalities. When we publish the results, you'll know how your favorites stack up against the winners. They may be the winners. The list changes from year to year because new names flash on the scene; old names may fade away. Last year, Robert Redford won his second victory in the top spot. (One more win, and he'll be "retired" with honor like John Wayne, who won three times and is now a Living Legend — beyond any voting list.)

Here's what you have to do: Check off your favorite celebrity in each category (only check one in each category. If you want your vote to count), write in the name of your favorite supporting actor and actress on TV, tear out the page and send it to Celebrity Poll, Family Weekly, 641 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. All ballots must be postmarked no later than March 15, 1977. We'll announce the winners in a future issue.

YES, YOU CAN START A NEW CAREER

It used to be that once you began your career you stayed with it until you retired. But now thousands of people are not only switching at all ages, they're also very successful at it.

By Monica Surfaro

Just after dawn in Taos, N.M., a virgin snowfall is tested by a lone skier. He zips along the natural slopes engraving the Sangre de Cristo ranges, slowing now and then to savor the crispness and silence of the forest. Later that morning, he joins other skiers at the lodge, sipping steaming hot chocolate and planning the day's instruction logs. After lunch, Tony Rousselot is back on the slopes, a fulfilled and happy man in love with his work and his environment.

Only six years ago, Rousselot was a New York stockbroker, keeping pace with the dynamics of urban life. He had success but had to pay a price—tension, high prices, high taxes, a hectic lifestyle for himself and his family. He was beginning to wonder whether it was all worth it. With some savings, courage, family support and a love of skiing as his backup, Rousselot moved west to Taos and began a new career as a ski instructor, sidelining in horticulture in the off-season.

A fairy tale? Not quite. Rousselot is just another example from the swelling ranks of middle-aged men who are successfully changing their careers in "midstream."

Although there are no official numbers on the phenomenon, a few interesting statistics reveal a growing interest among middle-aged men in pursuing alternate career goals:

- According to a 1972 report by the American Management Associations, almost half of a group of 2,700 successful executives surveyed were discontented in their jobs and had either considered or executed a career change during the previous five-year period.

- A recent survey by Harold L. Sheppard of the American Institute of Research in Washington indicated that 40 percent of male blue-collar workers desired career changes in mid-life, if alternatives were available.

- A 1974 Department of Labor survey reported that almost two million adults over 35 were back in school; men comprised 46 percent of that total.

Why is there this burgeoning movement to seek career change?

A roller-coaster economy is a prime factor, comments Dr. Alan D. Entine, director of the Mid-Life Assessment Program at the State University of New York at Stony Brook. Today there are no more anchor or "safe" professions which are immune to change.

Inner conflicts common in this life stage also are causes of the career-switch "itch." Psychologists label the turmoil part of a mid-life crisis syndrome. At this time, says Dr. Entine, a man may reach a "plateau" in his job, and his perspective on life changes. Instead of thinking in terms of "years ahead," a man contemplates the "years left to live."

Rousselot agrees: "It wasn't that I was miserable in New York; rather I needed to take stock of my life. I knew I loved skiing; I knew I wanted something more than a career on Wall Street. I did what I had to do."

Many men may marvel at Rousselot's ability to switch easily in midstream. Actually, the changeover was simplified because Rousselot was able to transfer skills used earlier in life. He was a ski buff, and he had always loved gardening.

Harold Kinne, 52, of Richardson, Texas, also was able to recycle skills into a new career. After retiring from the Army, Kinne returned to the United States in search of a new career. "I wasn't ready to leave the work force, and computers had always been a hobby of mine," he said. Kinne and his wife traveled around the country and chanced upon the computer-assisted management program at the University of Texas at Dallas. Kinne was turned on: "I knew I could bring something to the program, and I talked to them about the possibilities." He landed a job as an instructor within the program and now is attending classes for an advanced degree. "I've never been happier," he commented.

Walter J. Stoll, 54, of San Diego, Calif., made the move at 44. Stoll didn't then know what he wanted: "All I knew was that I wanted to live in California." Because he always wanted a degree in business, Stoll went back to college. Soon after that, he moved his wife and daughter to Southern California, where a chance meeting led him to a job managing office machines. After two years, he moved up to a better position within a security firm in the same area. Then, he bought up two small security firms with his savings. "I saw what I was doing for someone else and decided I could do just as well for myself," Stoll explains. Now his business is enlarging in Southern California, and it serves both national and international accounts.

Career changes don't always come by choice, however. Unemployment and forced retirement can also force career changes.

Harold Kinne

Bill Pilder

Tony Rousselot

Craig Jennings of Manhasset, Long Island, N.Y., was a deep-sea diver who was fired in 1969 because of budget cutbacks at his firm. For more than a year Jennings combed the job market via the traditional seekers' routes, feeling guilty about his impotence in securing another position. Then, in 1976, on a free-lance assignment, Jennings wrote a promotional brochure for a former employer. That led to a direct-mail booklet for the man who sold him a typewriter. Slowly, a new career option emerged. "I got some more contracts, and this fall I landed a major contract with a Michigan-based diving firm," he says proudly. Jennings at 43 has now formed his own advertising agency to handle his accounts.

Mid-life career changes can be thought of in degrees of angle: those who make a 30-degree shift bring many old skills to their new job. Bill Pilder, 36, of New Canaan, Conn., is an acute-degree changer. After leaving life as a monk a few years ago, he was able to bring his interest in people to a new career as a counselor. Pilder now works in New York at an agency which serves people changing careers in mid-life. According to Pilder, 60 percent of his agency's clients are men, with an average age of 33: "These men are depressed because they've found that what they thought they wanted to do is not enough. They are looking for a renewed sense of purpose, like I was."

If these people could make career changes, why not you? Dr. Entine suggests a self-checklist to review before seeking career alternatives:

- Identify the activities and skills that have brought the most satisfaction in life. (Was it organizing that Little League club for the town? Volunteering for the community fire department?)
- Identify career possibilities in which to channel these skills.
- Determine what further education or training may be necessary to achieve career goals.
- Evaluate the options. What are the desired geographic locations? Which companies or organizations are appealing? Individuals who already are pursuing professions of your choice should be sought and consulted.

Men who are eager for, but wary of, change should seek out professional support. Ten Speed Press publishes What Color Is Your Parachute? a fascinating and handy guidebook for career changers. Authored by Richard N. Bolles, director of the National Career Development Center of the United Ministries, the book also contains updated, valuable appendices on available resources. Local colleges, now revamping their adult-education programs to meet the current demand, also can be good sources on the career-changing process.

Finally, a word of warning: don't rush yourself into a change; do carefully examine your motivation. If you move too fast, you can expect too much too quickly and will therefore fail. And if your motivation is based on a personal problem such as fear of old age or marital trouble, a simple career change can't help you.

DISTURBING FACTS ABOUT OUR HOSPITALS

There is recent and authoritative evidence that while our hospitals are considered the best in the world and are satisfactory to most patients, they could be better.

By Paula Dranov

Most of us will spend some time in a hospital sooner or later.

What kind of care can we expect? Is there anything to recent reports that there are big differences in the quality of care from hospital to hospital?

Disturbing questions. Especially since there are no easy answers. Right now, there is no authoritative way to determine in advance the kind of treatment we'll get in the hospital.

And yes, the quality of care does vary from one hospital to another, according to the results of a major study sponsored by the prestigious National Academy of Sciences (NAS) and recently made public. Fortunately, the follow-up to that study which is now underway may someday yield the kind of information we all would like to have. It may help establish criteria by which we can judge how well one hospital stacks up against another. Eventually, it could result in upgrading the quality of hospital care in this country.

However, the results to date are somewhat alarming: they show a big enough difference in the quality of care from hospital to hospital to constitute an important public-health problem.

That conclusion wasn't reached lightly. It came only after the Stanford University Center for Health Care Research, working under an NAS grant, pored through the records of 314,000 patients who underwent surgery at 1,224 hospitals in 1972. Then, the researchers zeroed in on 8,593 patients who were operated on in 17 hospitals from May 1973 to February 1974.

The purpose of all that research was to measure the quality of hospital care based on the outcome of 15 different kinds of operations. The researchers compiled data on each patient's age, sex, general health and several other factors, including whether or not the operation was an emergency. After the operations they followed each case to determine 1) how many patients died following surgery, 2) how many suffered complications within a week of their operations and 3) how many had complications or died within 40 days of surgery. The complications and deaths were then compared with what the researchers had determined the results of surgery should have been on the basis of the individual patient and his or her condition.

Paula Dranov is a free-lance writer who writes on medical and consumer issues.

For the second phase of the study, the Stanford researchers interviewed every one of the 8,593 patients and doctors, nurses and anesthesiologists. After all the results were in and the statistical adjustments made, the researchers concluded that a patient's chances of dying or suffering severe complications of surgery were two and a half times as great at one hospital as at another.

Why such a big difference?

At present, that's the $64,000 question. The Stanford researchers are continuing their work in an attempt to pinpoint the reasons. Indications are, however, that the hospitals which showed up best:

- Had a higher percentage of nurses on their staffs.

- Spent more money per patient.

- Were more careful than others in awarding staff privileges to doctors.

The study found that old assumptions about what makes one hospital better than another no longer apply. For example, it had long been believed that the best hospitals are the ones with the most board-certified doctors—those physicians who have passed rigorous tests in one of the 21 recognized medical specialties. It also was thought that teaching hospitals—the ones that train doctors—are better than non-teaching institutions. Neither of those two factors seemed to make any difference in the quality of care in the hospitals studied.

The finding that care seemed to be better at hospitals with more registered nurses on their staffs may lend support to nurses' efforts to gain a greater say at the top-management level at hospitals. As things now stand, the nurses have been excluded from most medical policy-making. They don't have representation on the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals or the National Professional Standards Review Council, organizations that monitor the quality of hospital care.

Nurses, once content to remain in the background, have been speaking up recently. And what they've got to say about the kind of care available in our hospitals has been making waves inside and outside of the medical profession.

In response to a recent poll conducted by Nursing 77, the nation's largest nursing journal, 42 percent of the 10,000 nurses who responded said they knew of deaths due to doctors' mistakes, and 15 percent said they knew of more than one such case. One nurse told of a surgeon in her hospital who made mistakes that had cost the lives of eight patients in eight years.

Frederic Lewis

The nurses weren't quite as hard on themselves as they were on the doctors, but what they had to say is cause for concern. Eighteen percent said they knew of deaths caused by errors made by nurses, and four percent admitted to making fatal mistakes themselves.

One nurse described this experience:

"On the 11 to eight shift in the intensive care unit, an aide, a licensed practical nurse and I had six critically ill patients, all on ventilators in three separate rooms. I spent 15 minutes with one who was hemorrhaging, and when I returned to the other room, one of the patients had accidentally disconnected himself from the ventilator, arrested and died. That was three years ago, and I still can't get it out of my mind."

Some of the nurses took advantage of the questionnaire to unload their gripes. The biggest ones were the amount of paper work they have to do, what they saw as doctors' indifference to their opinions about patients and the level of psychological support doctors give their patients. A full 77 percent rated doctors' performance in this last area as "fair" or "poor."

And what do the nurses think about the quality of hospital care in general? An average of the "grades" the nurses were asked to assign their own institutions came out to a "low B." Furthermore, 38 percent said they wouldn't want to be a patient in their own hospitals.

Although the public usually doesn't hear this kind of thing from the medical profession, laymen have long been aware that going to the hospital is not without some risk. We're asked to consent in writing to surgery, to anesthesia, to other medical procedures, some routine, some not. The risk of anesthesia is one we don't think of too often, but it's been well documented: anesthesia causes or contributes to the death of one in 3,000 surgical patients, and one in 10,000 dies as a result of an anesthesia accident. Those don't sound like bad odds. But they represent risks that doctors as well as patients would rather not take.

What causes anesthesia deaths? Some recent studies suggest that they may be traceable to errors made in administering the anesthesia. A report in a recent issue of the New England Journal of Medicine describes the deaths of two young women undergoing abortions who were given overdoses of the local anesthetic lidocaine. A third girl died from an allergic reaction to the anesthetic mepivacaine.

A group of malpractice suits in California generated another study of deaths due to anesthesia errors. The patients involved "were healthy and required relatively routine elective surgical procedures," the Journal of the American Medical Association reported. Nine of the patients died because of "gross mismanagement" of their cases—overdoses of the anesthetic, disconnecting the patient from the breathing tube and insertion of the breathing tube into only one lung. All told, of the 41 cases studied, 30 patients died, and eight suffered severe brain damage.

Why does this kind of thing happen?

A study conducted by Massachusetts General Hospital concluded that 69 percent of the anesthesia mishaps or near mishaps investigated there recently were due to human error. More than half of those could be traced to the "adverse general mental or physical condition of the responsible individual." Another 27 percent of the problems studied were due to equipment failure.

While all of this may seem to be a shocking picture, the American Hospital Association helps put things in perspective by pointing out that American hospitals are still the best in the world. They also cite a Roper poll that shows that 76 percent of the public is satisfied with the quality of hospital care.

In addition, there also are things we can do to protect ourselves in the hospital and to make sure we get the kind of care we should have. Obviously, we've got to leave the medical decisions to the doctors, although there's nothing to prevent us from asking for a second, or even a third, opinion. And the increase in malpractice suits against physicians is testimony to the fact that more and more people are holding doctors accountable for their mistakes.

However, what many patients don't realize until something goes wrong is that doctors are ethically and legally required to obtain their patients' "informed consent" in connection with the treatment they recommend. The key word there is "informed"—the doctor has an obligation to make sure that the patient fully understands the risks involved. So if you should have to enter a hospital, keep these facts in mind to help you get the best care available.

ELVIN BALE: The Daring Young Man On The Flying Trapeze

"I feel I'm a better athlete than any of the top-ranking football, baseball or basketball players," says Elvin Bale of the Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey Circus. "Their season only lasts for part of the year while I perform almost all-year round, and my job is more dangerous and more physically demanding than theirs."

Bale is regarded as the kingpin of aerial daredevils. His most dangerous feat on a swinging trapeze comes when he makes a breathtaking dive into space and then catches himself by his heels at the last possible moment. "If I miss with my heels, I've had it!" he says grimly. He also does a sequence of balancing stunts on a 45-foot gyro wheel that spins around at 70 miles an hour. His wife Jeanette appears with him in the gyro-wheel act and once saved his life by breaking his fall as he slipped off the wheel. He's also had his share of broken bones from minor falls.

Since he performs 11 months out of the year, two performances a day—and some times three—Bale is always in top condition. He takes special warm-up exercises for 30 minutes before he goes on—running in place, skipping rope and chinning himself up and down from a high bar. "I've got to be all warmed up before I go out," he says.

The 30-year-old Bale pooh-poohs the myth that aerial daredevils never show fear. "The fact is I feel fear everytime I go up, and at night, I even dream of falling," he admits. "The fear serves a purpose in that it prevents me from getting careless. I psych myself to give a skilled performance despite the fear."

Like the top athletes in other fields, Bale negotiates his own contracts with the circus world. His income doesn't match that of the Joe Namaths or the Julius Ervings, but he says, "They are individual attractions who draw crowds just to see them play while I draw crowds only as part of the Ringling team." His number-one idol in sports is Muhammad Ali because "he's not only a great champion but a terrific showman who always does what he promises to do."

Bale was born in England and comes from a family with a circus heritage. His father, Trevor Bale, was the featured animal trainer with Ringling in the 50's and is still a ranking equestrian. Jeanette is the daughter of the owner-manager of a German circus and rides Lipizzan stallions in addition to performing with her husband.

By watching other circus performers, Bale learned to swing from a trapeze when he was five years old. A few years later, his family moved to Florida, and he developed a tumbling act before experimenting with new trapeze techniques and coming up with his unique, suspense-packed heel-catch trick.

The Bales have a permanent home in Venice, Fla., and travel the circus route in their own motor home. Their eight-year-old daughter Pinky follows circus tradition by traveling with them and getting private tutoring on the road. She, too, has set her sights on becoming a performer under the Big Top.

Electric Grandfather Chime Clock

Chimes every hour and every half hour

Pendulum actually swings!
Swinging Pendulum and matching simulated gold chain weights.

From its authentic antique styling to its swinging pendulum, this wall-hung grandfather clock is about as close to original Colonial American craftsmanship as you can get—without spending hundreds of dollars for a real antique.

Yet this charming decorative replica has features our forefathers never dreamed of. It has the dependability and precision of a silent electric movement plus a lovely chime that sounds on the hour and half hour.

The authentic pendulum and simulated gold chain weights add gleaming beauty to this stately clock. The case is handsomely detailed and finished in woodtone Spartawood. The gold metal dial is richly embossed and adorned with decorative scrolls and blossoms that look like hammered, hand-made metal work inlays. The large numerals make easy reading and are in keeping with the authenticity of the design. Case measures 7" wide, 16" tall, overall.

This charming and elegant grandfather clock will add grace and beauty to any room in your home—kitchen, living or dining room, foyer, den, family room, business office or store. Guaranteed by Spartus to keep perfect time, silently. Free Mystery Gift included if you order now.

PEOPLE QUIZ/By John E. Gibson

Can you "think away" a headache? Can pain and non-contagious illnesses be transferred to someone you love?

HOW TO LIVE LONGER AND ENJOY LIFE MORE

TRUE OR FALSE?

1. People whose lives are spent doing hard physical work until they retire are much less likely to have a fatal heart attack than those who don't have to sweat and strain from dawn to dusk.
2. Unless you're tired and need sleep, avoid taking afternoon naps. This easily can grow into a time-wasting habit that saps mental and physical energy, lowers morale and reduces efficiency for the rest of the day.
3. You can't help feeling physically fit if you eat a well-balanced diet, get plenty of exercise and practice moderation in all things.
4. Pain and noncontagious illness can somehow be passed from one person to another.
5. Your physical and psychological health largely depends on your ability to adjust to the various pressures and stresses of everyday living.
6. You can "think" some headaches away.

ANSWERS

1. True. A California State Department of Health study that appraised the role of heavy physical activity in reducing coronary mortality among more than 6,000 longshoremen, aged 35 to 74 years, found that the coronary death rate for them was dramatically less than the rate for workers whose jobs entailed either light or moderate exertion. The study also corroborates the theory that exercise is a critical factor in cardiovascular well-being.
2. False. A U.S. Public Health Service study of the effects of daytime naps on performance, mood and general efficiency shows that afternoon naps have the effect of improving a person's mood and general sense of well-being, speed reaction time and increase efficiency. "These findings," the investigators report, "indicate that behavioral and psychological functions are facilitated by short periods of habitual sleep in the afternoon."

3. False. As one leading authority points out, good health depends to a large extent on personal satisfaction with life. If that's lacking, no amount of nutritious food, exercise and exemplary habits is going to make you feel well—mentally or physically. And the importance of attitude on health is accentuated by the succinct counsel of Britain's Dr. Beric W. Wright: "If you want to stay alive longer, above all, don't be a miserable so-and-so. Happy people who are enjoying themselves are seldom ill."

4. True. Psychologist Marie Nelson, who evaluated research on the phenomenon of interpersonal transference for the Clinical Work Journal, found that not only thoughts and emotions but pain and illness as well can be transferred somehow to another person, along with any physical ailment.

5. True. A five-year study of the effect of typical stress situations encountered daily in the life of individuals in a cross-sectional survey of men and women from all walks of life has been conducted at the Institute of Social Medicine, University of Leiden, Netherlands. The results: "Illnesses are the more or less automatic result of a failure to adjust to stress." Stress was defined as a discrepancy between the ideal state of the individual in relation to his desired goals and the actual position in which he finds himself. There also were indications of a very strong relationship between good health and the individual's ability to accept setbacks and frustrations as natural and expectable obstacles to be overcome and to realize that they are present on the road to achievement for everyone.

6. True. Dr. David J. LaFia, in his treatise on headaches, New Hope for Relief from Pain, points out that in many cases a person's headache is caused simply by something that is bothering him in his lifestyle. He finds: "People often develop the most severe headaches from suppressed desires, frustrations, social setbacks, financial troubles and just plain boredom." It follows that many headaches can be made to disappear by shifting the mental gears from negative to positive. Psychological studies show people with pessimistic attitudes to be much more subject to headaches than the optimistic-minded.

ARMOUR'S ARMORY
By Richard Armour

LOTS OF CHEEK

I bit my cheek. It hurt. And then Of course I bit my cheek again. That first bite raised a welt, I guess, Which, bit again, grew more, not less. Had this gone on, chew after chew, I would have chewed my cheek clear through.

But happily my cheek is whole, All healed. I'm glad, upon my soul. It was a painful, truly vexed time, And what is worse, there'll be a next time.

The goose was a loner, without friend or foe. At last, taking pity on him, the central geese committee began to tout the gaggle about his hidden virtues. And the loner was soon accepted. The moral of this is that what's proper for the goose is propaganda.

Grass Seed Is For The Birds! Zoysia Saves Time, Work, Money

GRASS SEED WILL NEVER GROW A LAWN LIKE THIS! SAVE WITH OUR SPECIAL INTRODUCTORY OFFER UP TO 200 AMAZOY ZOYSIA GRASS PLUGS FREE!

By Mike Sandin
Agronomist

Every year I see people pour more and more money into their lawns. They dig, fertilize and lime. They rake it all in. They scatter their seed and roll and water it.

Birds love it! Seeds which aren't washed away by rain give them a feast. But some seed grows, and soon it's time to weed, water and mow, mow...

until summer comes to burn the lawn into hay, or crabgrass and diseases infect it. That's what happens to ordinary grass, but not to Amazoy Zoysia.

"MOWED IT 2 TIMES," WRITES WOMAN

For example, Mrs. M. R. Mitter writes me how her lawn "... is the envy of all who see it. When everybody's lawns around here are brown from drought ours just stays as green as ever. I've never watered it, only when I put the plugs in..." Last summer we had it mowed (2) times. Another thing, we never have to pull any weeds—it's just wonderful!"

And from Iowa came word that the state's largest Men's Garden Club picked a Zoysia lawn as the "top lawn"—nearly perfect—in its area. Yet this lawn had been watered only once all summer up to August!

Cuts Your Work, Saves You Money

Your deep-rooted, established Amazoy lawn saves you time and money in many ways. It never needs replacement... ends re-seeding forever. Fertilizing and watering (water costs money, too) are rarely if ever needed. It ends the need for crabgrass killers permanently. It cuts pushing a noisy mower in the blistering sun by 2/3.

CHOKES OUT CRABGRASS

Thick rich, luxurious Amazoy grows into a carpet of grass that chokes out crabgrass and weeds all summer long. It will NOT winter kill. Goes off its green color after killing frost, regains fresh new beauty every Spring—a true perennial!

For Slopes, Play Areas, Bare Spots

End erosion of slopes with Amazoy. Perfect answer for hard-to-cover spots, play-work areas.

Your Own Supply of Plug Transplants

Established Amazoy gives you Zoysia plugs to plant in other areas as desired!

NO SEED, NO SOD!

There's no seed that produces winter-hardy Meyer Zoysia. Sod of ordinary grass brings with it the problems of seed, like weeds, diseases, burning out, other ills.

Meyer Zoysia Grass Was Perfected by U.S. Gov't; Released in Cooperation With U.S. Golf Assoc. as a superior grass.

Order guaranteed Amazoy now, get your bonus Plug FREE! Your order will be delivered at earliest convenient time for planting in your area.

DROUGHT AND WEAR RESISTANT
Amazoy lawns take cookouts and parties—children playing on it won't hurt it, or themselves! Stays green right thru scorching heat and drought!

NO NEED TO RIP OUT PRESENT GRASS PLUG AMAZOY INTO OLD LAWN, NEW GROUND OR NURSERY AREA

Just set Amazoy plugs into holes in ground like a cork in a bottle. Plant 1 foot apart, checkerboard style. Every plug 8 sq. inches.

When planted in existing lawn areas plugs will spread to drive out old, unwanted growth, including weeds. Easy planting instructions with order.

To Get A Good Job Make A Good Impression

If you're about to enter the work force, or looking for a new position, be particularly concerned about the impression you will make. According to the Bureau of National Affairs, the results of the personal interview have become the most important consideration in the hiring of nonmanagerial employees as the use of pre-employment testing has declined. Furthermore, nine out of 10 companies will reject a candidate for lying on his job application. Almost all prospective employers said they verify previous employment, and 53 percent check on educational background.

WHAT IN THE WORLD...

What Should You Put In That Safe-Deposit Box?

People are now making practical use of the formerly prestigious safe-deposit box. Items such as wills, stocks and bonds, personal letters and military papers, as well as stamps, rocks and even rare seashells, have been known to wind up locked out of harm's way. But how safe is a safe-deposit box? Can the police gain access by producing a search warrant? Can bank personnel sneak a peek at your valuables without permission? The answer to each is a definite no. Each safe-deposit box contains a double lock. This means that the bank can't open it without the customer's key, and the customer can't open it without the bank's key. Here are a few facts of interest to anyone contemplating the rental of a safe-deposit box: 1) Keeping cash there is not illegal, despite what you may have heard. 2) Retain a complete inventory of all items you have stored in the box. 3) Only a copy of your will should remain in the bank box—the original should always stay with your attorney. 4) Don't lose your keys. The drilling fee to regain access costs about $40 and is paid by the renter.

Heart Attacks That Strike Young Women

The incidence of heart attack in women under 40 has been steadily on the increase. Dr. H. Jurgen Engel and research colleagues at St. Thomas Hospital in Nashville, Tenn., set out to identify factors in high-risk women in order to improve the odds against heart attack. Their study group, 21 women 40 years old or younger, all had advanced coronary atherosclerosis—diseased blood vessels. In the Journal of the American Medical Association, the research team reported factors that these young women held in common, including a personal history or a history of family members with heart trouble of any kind, diabetes, elevated blood cholesterol or high blood pressure. Also, over three-quarters of the patients were heavy smokers, averaging more than a pack of cigarettes a day for more than 10 years. Altogether, Dr. Engel reported 85 percent of the women with early coronary artery disease had at least three of these major risk factors. So if any of the above checks out in your record, for your own well-being, get a checkup now.

Solar Heat For Your Home: You Can Do It Now

Solar heat for your home is within reach—if you're handy and conservation-minded. Materials will cost about $2,000, but you could save hundreds of dollars each year on your heating bill. The needed instructions for a do-it-yourself job are available by sending for "NASA Technical Memo X-3294—An Inexpensive Economical Solar Heating System for Homes." The address is: National Technical Information Service, Springfield, Va. 22161, and the cost of the report is $4.25. You can use materials readily available at lumber yards, hardware stores and plumbing supply stores. "It's relatively simple to install," according to NASA, and the device can result in "really substantial savings" in your home heating bill.

Got Any Ideas For A Great Postage Stamp?

Year after year, the U.S. Postal Service gets thousands of letters filled with advice about who to put on U.S. commemorative stamps. Stamp Development Branch manager Ron McDowell lists these as his most recent favorites:

- A salute to Whooada Tom, the world's greatest hog caller.
- A tribute to "Acrefoot" Johnson, a legendary barefoot Florida mailman.
- A stamp honoring the devil and other forces of evil. To be issued in Hell, Michigan.

For those thinking of dropping in a suggestion or two, the Postal Service wants its current rules kept in mind. The one most often ignored is that, except for a President, a figure must be dead 10 years before he can be honored. And no anniversaries of colleges, universities, cities and towns—there are just too many of them. Finally, don't write your congressman—he can't do much to help you. All suggestions should go to the Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee, Stamp Development Branch, U.S. Postal Service, Washington, D.C. 20515.

Quick Takes

Elizabeth Rider Montgomery, who wrote the "Dick and Jane" books that helped 20 million children learn to read, says she would do the books differently if she were writing today. "If I were writing them now," she says, "I'd have father washing dishes or mother mowing the lawn. Better yet, both mother and father doing things together—like fixing the car." ... The South is the cheapest place to live in the U.S., according to a nationwide survey on the cost of living. And the cheapest place of all is Texas. ... Did you know that according to the ancient Chinese calendar we are now in the Year of the Snake? According to tradition, such a year should be marked by business recovery and economic health throughout the world. ... How can you tell if you're drinking good champagne? Look at the bubbles, says wine connoisseur Mike Nole. If they're the size of a pinhole and can outlast the longest toast, it means the champagne is high quality. If the bubbles are about the size of BB's, forget it. ... Pencil chewers have been given a clean bill of health. Dr. Lawrence Finberg, pediatrics chief at New York's Montefiore Medical Center, cleared pencils of blame after investigating many cases of lead poisoning. He even added: "It's not only all right to nibble on a pencil but, if you wanted to, you could go whole hog and eat one a day, point and all, without any ill effects whatsoever."

Observations

Victory at sea. When companies bid on offshore tracts with oil and gas potential, both big and small firms have a good shot at the action. In a Gulf of Mexico lease sale last autumn, for example, competition was fierce. Of the 43 blocks on which bids were accepted, 27 went to independent companies and seven to independents and majors bidding jointly. (And the federal government got $379 million in lease bonuses.) All told, since 1967, smaller firms have shared in 80 percent of the winning bids in all federal lease sales. You might remember that next time somebody spouts off about big oil companies driving out smaller ones.

"ISN'T YOUR EQUIPMENT A LITTLE PRIMITIVE?"

Stumbling over the wording. Wisconsin's Blue Book, an official state directory, says members of the Citizens Advisory Council on Alcoholism are "appointed by the governor for staggered three-year terms." We think that's a sobering thought.

Stranger in a strange land. The "Mobil Showcase" TV series on great adventures, Ten Who Dared, turns next to Charles Doughty who, in the late 1870s, became the first Christian Englishman to live among the Bedouins in the Arabian desert without denying his faith. Mary Kingsley, featured the following week, showed another kind of determination. When both her parents died, she decided to carry out her father's work in natural history. She traveled among the Fang people of West Africa in 1893, financing her expedition by selling goods along the way. You'll remember both exploits for a long time. Check your local listings for time and station.

Drama to keep. The stories of Doughty, Miss Kingsley, and many others are told in the 336-page book, Ten Who Dared. With a preface by Anthony Quinn, narrator of the series, the colorful picture-filled volume will take you on a journey through time from the 15th to the 20th century. You can obtain a copy by sending a check or money order for $14.95, plus applicable state and local taxes, to: Ten Who Dared, P.O. Box 1934, Kansas City, Missouri 64140.

HOW THE CLUB OPERATES

Simply mail the application, together with check or money order for $1.86 as payment (that's $1.00 for your first 11 selections, plus 86¢ for shipping and handling).

Every four weeks (13 times a year) you'll receive the Club's music magazine, which describes the Selection of the Month for each musical interest... plus hundreds of alternates from every field of music. In addition, up to six times a year you may receive offers of Special Selections, usually at a discount off regular prices.

If you wish to receive the Selection of the Month or the Special Selection, you need do nothing—it will be shipped automatically. If you prefer an alternate selection, or none at all, simply fill in the response card always provided and mail it by the date specified.

You will always have at least 10 days in which to make your decision. If you ever receive any Selection without having had at least 10 days to decide, you may return it at our expense, for full credit.

Your own charge account will be opened... the selections you order will be mailed and billed at the regular Club prices, which currently are: 8-track tapes and cassettes, $6.98 or $7.98; reel tapes, $7.98; records, $5.98 or $6.98—plus shipping and handling. (Multiple unit sets and Double Selections may be somewhat higher.)

After completing your enrollment agreement (by buying 8 selections within 3 years), you may cancel membership at any time. If you decide to continue, you'll be eligible for our generous money-saving bonus plan. Here, indeed, is the most convenient way possible to acquire the records and tapes you want—at the greatest savings possible! So don't delay.

NOTE: all applications are subject to review; Columbia House reserves the right to reject any application

Special Start-Your-Membership-Now Offer: you may also choose your first selection right now—and we'll give it to you at 50% off regular Club prices (only $3.88 for a record; $3.99 for a tape). Enclose payment now and you'll receive it with your 11 introductory selections. This half-price purchase reduces your membership obligation. Immediately you'll then be required to buy just 7 more (instead of 8) in the next three years. Just check box in Application and fill in the number of your first selection.
